 One of the most interesting and valuable accounts of old English travels in the East which we possess. The occasional Christian comments on Mohammedan darkness are not accompanied by any prejudices in the narrative, which is especially circumstantial concerning the Persian empire, then very powerful. It is not clear why the title bears "the Preacher's Travels," as Cartwright, who went to Ispahan, and his companion John Mildenab, who travelled on to Lahore, seem to have been merchants.

A work full of curious information concerning the trade of the 17th century, and valuable for its notes on Prices, Custom-Duties, Exchanges, and the accounts of the condition and manners of the principal towns.

"Roberts was the first systematic writer upon trade in the English language. It contains notices of the principal commercial towns, and of the commodities usually found in them; their coins and exchanges; the manner of keeping their accounts and transacting business; and a variety of other particulars, comprising a fuller and better account of the trade of the world than any that had then appeared."

McCulloch.

At the beginning of the book are poems by Isaac Walton and others. Here is one stanza:—

"If thou would'st be a merchant, buy this booke;
For 'tis a prize worth gold; and doe not looke
Daily for such disbursements; no, 'tis rare,
And should be cast up with thy richest ware."—Iz. Wa.

- This, even without consideration of the time at which it was written, is an excellent handbook for the American collector. In fact, wherever the volumes of Rich, Ternaux, Harris, Field, and other writers dealing with American bibliography, are found, there White Kennett's Primordia must take the first place. Very few American Libraries are in possession of the book, and such a copy as the present is little likely to offer itself again.

 This little book is one of the most characteristic of Captain Smith's works. It is full of details concerning his own voyage and experiences, with reflections on the Brownist and Puritan settlers, from whom this wise and valiant adventurer differed so widely in character. Some verses, apparently by himself, called the "Seaman's Mark," precede the text. The map is the same which appeared in his first work—New England in 1616—and which was repeated in his General History. It is in extraordinarily fine state.

- 7588 WILLIAMS (EDWARD) [and JOHN FARRER] VIRGO TRIUMPHANS: OR VIRGINIA RICHLY AND TRULY VALUED; more especially the south part thereof: viz. the fertile CAROLANA, and no lesse excellent Isle of ROANOAK, of Latitude from 31 to 37 deg. relating the meanes of raising infinite profits to the Adventurers and Planters, sm. 4to. green morocco extra, gilt edges, bound by W. PRATT, £30.

Lond. by T. Harper, 1650

Williams was the author of the book; but Mr. John Farrer, to whom he alludes in the preface, supplied all the material. No map was issued with this first edition, although it is sometimes stated that there was, through the insertion in a few copies of the map from the second edition. In the present volume is inserted an interesting autograph letter by the author, addressed to "My Lord, The Lord President of ye Council of State," relating to the affairs of Virginia, and the author's previous connection with the royalist party—now broken off; and his hatred of the Lord President—a feeling now buried in the King's grave. It is a manly letter, and shows the writer's anxiety to serve his country, by preventing pirates or enemies from encroaching on the Virginian settlements.

- 7589 WILLIAMS' Virgo Triumphans, sm. 4to. First Edition, Mr. Farrar's own copy, with his MS. notes and his original drawing of the Map, which was engraved for the second edition, sd. £42.

- 7590 ——— Virginia, more especially the South part thereof, second edition, with addition of the discovery of Silkworms, with their benefit, and and implanting of mulberry-trees; also the dressing of Vines, for the rich trade of making Wines in Virginia, sm. 4to. folding map of Virginia, which also exhibits a rude delineation of New Albion and the North-west shore of America, designed for the purpose of demonstrating an easy northern passage between the Atlantic and the Pacific, old calf, from the Bathurst library, £36.

The MS. notes which appear in Mr. Farrer's copy, his plan for a Map (the absence of which necessary adjunct to such a work he complains of), evidently caused Williams to issue his second edition. The map he caused to be engraved with but slight alteration from the drawing, and he embodied most of the notes in his second part, on the discovery of Silkworms.

From the text it seems that the Mississippi was known as a great river dividing Virginia from New Albion, but it was imagined that it disembogued in the South Sea.

Referring to the two volumes of Lord Overstone's own writings, Mr. MacCulloch says:—"Lord Overstone's Tracts are all excellent, being admirable alike for the uniform soundness of their doctrines, the perfect acquaintance of the Author with the details of the subject, their skilful arrangement, and the graces of their style. Since Ricardo, no writer on currency has combined the same wide range of theoretical and of practical information as Lord Overstone, or has been so able to detect plausible fallacies, and to elicit and illustrate true principles, however obscured by sophistry, prejudice, or interest. The study of his Lordship's evidence before the Committee of 1857 is a high intellectual treat."

- 7647 — the same, 2 vols. in 1, an ORIGINAL COPY, with 116 engravings, PROOFS on India paper, including the original (retouched) plates by Rembrandt of the Gold-weigher, the Three Trees without lightning, and the Hundred Guilder-piece, besides proofs of Baillie's copies; also another engraving by Rembrandt of the bust of a bearded man; and rare early states of most of the engravings; with the original leaf of contents for each of the two separate volumes, old russia binding, VERY RARE, £30.

The original collection of Baillie's prints made by himself, and issued in two volumes with a separate list of contents to each, is very rare; and each copy is more or less valuable according to the number of early proofs which it contains. The present one is the best kind, and comprises not only fine early states of the regular series of plates, but also the excessively rare Rembrandt pieces which are only found in a very few copies—perhaps a dozen in all—which have disappeared from the market. The ordinary and well-known issue was made about 1800, and has the engravings printed on uniform paper to form a regular book, thus differing from the scarce early edition in which the plates are found as originally issued on single leaves of various sizes. A new list of plates was printed, ranging the pieces in slightly different order, omitting the second portrait of Captain Baillie, and all notice of the rare Rembrandt engravings; and combining the two different series of numbers into one.

It may be mentioned here that I possess a collection of REMBRANDT ETCHINGS, in which an impression will be found from Rembrandt's plate of the HUNDRED GUILDER PIECE, before it was retouched by Captain Baillie, which will be sold by private contract.

 NOT MORE THAN 4 COPIES WERE THUS GOT UP OF THE ABSOLUTELY PERFECT COPIES, AND THEY ARE ALL SECURED SO AS NEVER AGAIN TO APPEAR IN THE MARKET.

This magnificent work is no less valuable to the Architect than to the Painter. It does not profess (says the Quarterly Review, in an elaborate article) to exhibit fresh decorative painting in that highest walk chosen by Michael Angelo and Raffiello (except as a handmaid), but as a purely decorative Art and subservient to Architecture. Owing its very existence to the exigencies of the sovereign art, and deriving its appropriate locality, scale and effect, from the edifice, it no less assists the Architecture, in return, by its arabesques and other tasteful accessories.

It is impossible to speak in terms too high of this Collection of Portraits. No display of art can afford us more amusement and gratification. "It impossible," says Sir Walter Scott, "to conceive a work which ought to be more interesting to the present age." Historical Portraits are illustrations of History, and in this Collection are comprised the noblest of our fathers as they lived, taken from the authentic paintings of their contemporaries.

"The folio is the only library edition, the plates of which were destroyed after publication. The plan is admirable, and the execution of it, throughout, is entitled to equal praise. Such a union of various talents—such a Gallery of illustrious dead, was scarcely ever before presented to the eyes of the public, in colours almost as vivid and sparkling as if the originals occupied the canvas whence these copies were taken."—DIBDIN.

The grand and picturesque effects of this great master of the school of English Landscape Painters are truthfully exhibited in this, which, after the Liber Studiorum, may be considered his finest work; the engraving was executed by the best English Artists, and possess all the fidelity to nature of the original drawings. Collectors of really fine works of art should lose no time in securing copies, as they will soon disappear from the market.

The "England and Wales" of Turner has always been considered by competent judges as his greatest work. His varied excellencies can only be properly appreciated when seen in the finest impressions of the engravings, like the above. "Modern artists, as a body, are far more just and full in their views of material things than any landscape painters whose works are extant; but Mr. J. M. W. TURNER is the only man who has ever given an entire transcript of the whole system of nature, and is, in point of view, the ONLY PERFECT LANDSCAPE PAINTER whom the world has ever seen."—Ruskin's Modern Painters.

One of these copies would be a great acquisition for the historical student, they are sold at the above cheap prices for the only reason that some of the plates are from stones instead of coppers. The intrinsic value of the book as throwing a flood of light upon the development of English manners and customs and upon obscure points in English history cannot be over-estimated.

- 8111 ——— the same, Vols. I and III, 2 vols. cloth, £2. 1865-7
After some delay the tenth volume (1873) of this annual, so invaluable to the working naturalist, has appeared under the editorship of Mr. E. C. Rye, who has succeeded the founder of the work, Dr. Günther, in that office. The latter gentleman has also relinquished the charge of his own special departments of mammals, reptiles, and fishes, the first of which has been undertaken by Mr. E. R. Alston, and the two latter by Mr. A. W. E. O'Shaughnessy. The other recorders are the same as in the previous year. * * * * An important feature in the present volume is, that the series is now placed in connection with Agassiz's invaluable Nomenclator Zoologicus. In that work the index to recorded genera and subgenera of animals was brought down to 1846, and a continuation by Count A. von Marschall (Vienna, 1873) carried it on to 1868. Annual lists of a similar nature have appeared in the Zoological Record since 1870, and Mr. Rye has done well in issuing with the present volume a catalogue for 1869, thus filling up the blank and making the record complete from the beginning of the bi-normal system down to the end of 1873."—Academy, July 3, 1875.

Engineering, Mechanics.

- 8201 CIVIL ENGINEERS' INSTITUTION, MINUTES OF PROCEEDINGS, a set from 1842 to 1874, being Vols. II-XXXVIII, 37 vols.—General INDEX to the first thirty vols. 2 vols. 1865-71—Catalogue of the Library, 1866, and Supplement to the Catalogue, 1870—together 41 vols. stout 8vo. with a profusion of large folding plates and woodcuts, cloth, uncut, £40. 1814-73

With the exception of the six thin parts forming Vol. I, namely those for the Sessions 1839-42, the above is a complete set. No copy has occurred for sale during many years; series from Vol. 7 occasionally are offered, but the early volumes have quite disappeared.

This valuable publication contains the history and description of all the greatest Engineering works of the last half century (1828-71). There is no other publication of its kind that can bear the least comparison with it. From the time of Telford, Robert Stephenson, and Brunel, to that of the eminent men of the present day, scarcely a work of any consequence has been accomplished but it is fully described and carefully illustrated here.

- 8256 DAY (Francis) THE FISHES OF INDIA; being a Natural History of the Fishes known to inhabit the Seas and Fresh Waters of India, Burma, and Ceylon. With Descriptions of the Sub-Classes, Orders, Families, Genera, and Species. In the Press, Part I of the Fishes of India, by Mr. Francis Day. To be completed in 4 parts, royal 4to. Part I, to be published in August, contains 40 plates, comprising nearly 250 figures, by Ford, and about 150 pages of letterpress. Price for the whole work, £12. 12s.
1875-76

The whole work will consist of about 600 pages of letterpress, and, irrespective of woodcuts, probably 160 plates by Ford, illustrating about 800 species.

No part is sold separately; the buyer engages himself to take the whole. No extra charge will be made to Subscribers should the Author consider it necessary to extend the work.

As the number of copies printed is limited, and upwards of half the Edition has already been disposed of, subscriptions (£12. 12s) should be sent to the publisher, BERNARD QUARITCH, 15 Piccadilly, W., or to any Bookseller.

- 8257 LOWE'S (R. W.) History of the FISHES OF MADEIRA; with original figures from Nature of all the Species, by the Hon. C. E. Morton and Mr. Young, IN FIVE PARTS (all published), containing Introduction, xvi pp. and descriptive letterpress 196 pp., with 28 lithographed plates, in one vol. royal 8vo. half bound, uncut, 12s 6d

- 8259 ——— the LARGE PAPER ISSUE, with 18 of the 28 plates coloured, the rest plain, 5 parts in 1 vol. demy 4to. half bound MOROCCO, uncut, £2. 10s
1843-60

Plates 17, 18, 19, 21—24, 26 and 27, exist only plain; they were never issued coloured, the original drawings having been lost in Mr. Lowe's lifetime.

The Fishes of Madeira are no less interesting to the scientific Ichthyologist from their novelty and singularity of character, than generally striking and attractive by the brilliancy and splendour of their colouring.

Several of the Genera, and of the Species more than one-fourth part, are either new or have been hitherto imperfectly described; and of the others there are few the history of which does not embrace some point of interest or curiosity.

A brief enumeration of the species is contained in a memoir by the Author, in the Transactions of the Zoological Society of London, but unaccompanied by figures or details; nor hitherto has any more complete or satisfactory account appeared.

To supply a chasm therefore in descriptive Ichthyology, and furnish a correct and generally useful Iconography, are the main objects of this undertaking; the materials for which are the result of several years' patient investigation and continued revisal on the spot. The figures were all engraved and coloured by the same hands which, in co-operation with the author, originally drew them—a combination much in favour of their accuracy and correctness.

No systematic order was followed in the course of publication; each plate, with the corresponding letter-press, forms a chapter separately; therefore, although the work was never concluded, each monograph is complete in itself.

A title-page and list of contents are now added.

- 8401 CAXTON'S ENEYDOS. To the honour of god almyghty and to the gloryous vyrgyne Marye moder of alle grace, and to the utylyte & prouffyt of all the policye mondayne, this present booke compyled by Virgyle ryght subtyl and ingenyous oratour & poete intytuled Eneydos. hath be translated oute of Latyn in to comyn language, sm. folio, two leaves (L 2 and L 7) in facsimile, otherwise a large (10 $\frac{5}{16}$ by 7 $\frac{1}{2}$ inches) and very fine copy in brown morocco extra by BEDFORD, enclosed in an olive morocco case, £300. Wyllm. Caxton, 22 Juyn, 1490

Mr. Blades records the existence of eight copies in private libraries (leaving aside those which are preserved in public collections) of which three are imperfect. It is a highly interesting specimen of England's first press, and of Caxton's literary work; the prologue possessing a special attraction of its own. It begins thus:—

"After dyverse werkes made translated and achieved, havynge noo werke in hand. I sittyng in my studie where as laye many dyverse paunflettis and bookys, happened that to my hande cam a lytyl booke in Frenshe. Whiche late was translated oute of latyn by some noble clerke of France, whiche booke is named Eneydos made in latyn by that noble poete & grete clerke Vyrgyle, whiche booke I sawe over and redde therein . . . I delybered and concluded to translate it in to englysshe. And forthwyth toke a penne & ynke and wrote a leef or tweyne, whyche I oversawe agayn to corecte it. And whan I sawe the fayr and straunge termes therein I doubted that it sholde not please some gentylmen whiche late blamed me sayng that in my translacions I had over curyous terms whiche could not be understande of comyn peple, and desired me to use olde and homely termes in my translacions, and fayn wolde I satysfye every man, and so to doo toke an olde boke and redde therin, and certaynly the Englysshe was so rude and brood that I coude not wele understand it . . . And certaynly it was wreten in such wyse that it was more lyke to Dutche than Englysshe . . . and certaynly our langage now used varyeth ferre from that whiche was used and spoken whan I was borne." He proceeds to give in an anecdote, a curious instance of this difference, and finally begs Skelton, the poet-laureate, to revise the language of his Translation.

For some time back, original editions of the great works in English literature have been rising enormously in value, and the Anatomy of Melancholy is no exception to this rule. One would hardly have expected a classical book-worm like Burton to have been acquainted with contemporary literature, yet he had evidently read the masterpiece of Cervantes, as in referring to the Romances of Chivalry, he says that the reading of them would be likely to make a man as mad as Don Quixote.

John Haviland for Thomas Walkley, 1637
- VERY SCARCE. Some writers suppose that the book became rare through the destruction by the Cromwellians of all accessible copies of a masque that had been played on a Sunday. This was in the subsequent years when the Christian festival of rest and recreation was turned into the day of Judaic wrath and gloom, which even now remains to mark the lasting power of the Puritan Reformation.

 A delightful historical romance, to which most readers have attached the value of authentic narrative. Nothing is more astonishing in the works of Defoe than his matchless power of verisimilitude.

A curious volume shewing the order of the festivities as they were to have been celebrated, but not as they were. Many of the speeches were omitted so as not to weary the King. The songs which occur here and there will most interest the modern reader.

8578 DELONEY (T.) THOMAS OF READING, or the sixe worthie Yeomen of the West, now the sixth time corrected and enlarged, small 4to. black letter, red morocco, gilt edges, by P. Bedford, scarce, £10.

E. Allde for R. Birde, 1632

The earliest known edition of this entertaining romance is the fourth dated 1612 ; but that of 1632 was the earliest to which Mr. Thoms had access when he printed his "Prose Romances." It is very rare, and probably the most ancient that can now be had, the only known copies of those recorded as printed in 1612 and 1623 being deposited in public libraries. Thomas of Reading is remarkable as being the oldest English fiction of its kind—it may be considered as an historical novel relating probable circumstances of middle-class life ; and differs widely from the usual productions of ancient romance which deal only with kings, knights, and magic.

Thomas Deloney was famous as a ballad-writer, and the above book is interspersed with metrical pieces.

Sold separately are:—TANCREDEUS—MORUS, each 10s—Preparing for press a reprint of the "ORLANDUS," uniform with the above. Only 250 copies will be printed.

The author's greatest work; originally written at twenty-one years of age, reprinted with changes and additions one year later; and finally given to the world in its complete form between 1829 and 1848, after he had embraced the ancient faith of Europe, and thereby found himself obliged to make considerable alterations in the text. The product of a highly sensitive and graceful genius, richly stored with learning, it stands in the same relation to the History of Chivalry, as works of Mr. Ruskin to the History of Art. No ancient romancer, nor yet Mr. Tennyson in our own time, has ever painted Knighthood in such beautiful shape and delicate colouring; and the enthusiasm which breathes throughout the work, reveals the nature of the author himself as identical with the type that he portrays. In spite of the vast knowledge of olden times and mediæval literature, which is visible in every passage of his book, there is no mouldiness of antiquity, no dust or rust, on the mirror of his intellect; his style is simple and unaffected; and to any mind, in which high and noble thoughts can ever harbour, the reading of the Broad Stone of Honour will be as delightful and full of charm as the Earlier Romances of Chivalry.

A set of our old English Dramatists, ably edited by Dyce, and with uncut edges, is a prize for a collector. It is improbable that new editions of these authors will again appear. The present editions are very scarce, and will undoubtedly become still scarcer and higher in price.

The prices at which the works are sold separately:

 There is said to exist a unique book of Freemasons' Constitutions dated 1722; which if its date be correct, is the earliest known book printed concerning the Masons. However, the edition of 1723, compiled by James Anderson, Master of the 17th Lodge, with the dedication by Desaguliers, the Deputy Grand Master, to the Duke of Montague, is the oldest accepted document emanating from the Society. It is the first Code published by the English Freemasons, the most ancient portion of the order. Copies are extremely rare.

The work is one of great interest as shewing what were the manners and fashions of the wealthy classes in England in the later part of Elizabeth's reign; and with what a sound hatred the true Englishman regarded everything "newfangled." There are a few satiric touches in the lines in which the looks of a poet are sketched.

- 8682 GREENE, the Honorable Historie of Frier Bacon and Frier Bungay, as it was lately plaid by the Prince Palatine his servants, sm. 4to. curious woodcut on title, calf neat, gilt edges, £4. 4s Lond. Elizabeth Allde, 1630

Parliamentary History, by Cobbett, from the earliest period to 1803. 36 vols.

Parliamentary Debates, by Hansard, First Series, from 1803 to 1820. 41 vols.

Parliamentary Debates, Second Series, from 1820 to 1830. 25 vols.

Parliamentary Debates, Third Series, from 1830 to 1858. 151 vols.

A Work of the nature of the Parliamentary Debates, forming at once a perfect Record of the Proceedings of Parliament, and a repository of the eloquence and political wisdom of the great men of the time may be looked upon as an Encyclopædia of the Laws, History, and Policy of this Country.

The correctness of it has been throughout so manifest as to render unnecessary any Official Report of the Daily Parliamentary Debates, and quotations from its pages have always received the authority usually conceded to official documents. A more valuable work of reference, either for Members of Parliament or Public Institutions, does not exist.

A remarkable work, resembling Moll Flanders in so far as it narrates the autobiography of a scoundrel. But the "English Rogue" is full of indecent and filthy stories which are told with so much vigour and gusto that the authors' moral pretensions are at once belied. Both Head and Kirkman profess to draw such a picture of vice as shall make men avoid it; but this is mere hypocrisy.

- 8746 JOE MILLER'S JESTS, or the Wit's Vade-Mecum, 8vo. FIRST EDITION, morocco extra, gilt edges, by Clarke and Bedford, scarce, £9. 9s 1739

The fact that this volume was published at a shilling is in curious contrast to its present price, considering the trivial character of the book. But the desire which naturally enough exists to see and possess the original form of those works which—however frivolous—have in numerous editions influenced and moulded the popular mind, stamps a fictitious value upon the scarce early editions which are now but seldom seen.

- 8818 ——— the same, with the genuine original portrait by William Marshall, blue morocco extra, gilt edges, £15. 15s 1645
The first work bearing Milton's name ; the first collective edition of poems by him; and the Editio Princeps of the two famous Odes, and of everything else it contains except Comus, Lycidas, and the Epitaph on Shakspeare.

The publisher, Humphrey Mosley, was not unaware of Milton's high deserts: he states in the preface concerning these poems, that "I shall deserve of the age by bringing into the light as true a birth as the Muses have brought forth since our famous Spencer wrote; whose Poems in these English ones are as rarely imitated as sweetly excell'd."

8819 MILTON. Paradise Lost, a Poem in ten books, the Author John Milton, sm. 4to. First Edition, with the fourth issue of the title-page, beautiful copy in red morocco extra, by BEDFORD, £1*6s*. 1668

8820 ——— the same, with the seventh issue of the title-page, the title inlaid, and the date cut away, calf, panelled sides, with the autographs of J. and T. Warton, £10. 1669

The first edition of Milton is like the first edition of Shakespeare, but hitherto it has attracted minor attention from the class of collectors, most of whom close their old English libraries with the reign of Charles I. With time, however, it will not be wonderful to see a fine copy fetch a very high price; for the English-speaking multitudes that swarm round the globe will always maintain an increasing demand for the first editions of their great classics. Many eminent writers of genius stand in the category, with disputed and uncertain claims of priority; but there is no one who denies the two foremost places to Shakespeare and the poet of Paradise Lost.

JENKINS, calf gilt*, £5. 1617
"Moryson," says Dr. Drake, "is a sober-minded and veracious traveller, and that part of his book which relates to the manners and customs of England and Scotland is particularly interesting." "He began his travels," relates Fuller, "May 1st, 1591, over a great part of Christendome, and no small share of Turkey, even to Jerusalem, and afterwards printed his observations in a large book, which, for the truth thereof, is in good reputation, for of so great a traveller, he had nothing of a traveller in him, as to stretch, in his reports. At last he was secretary to Charles Blunt, Deputy of Ireland, saw and wrote the conflicts with, and conquest of Tyrone; a discourse which deserveth credit, because the writer's eye guides his pen, and the privacy of his place acquainted him with many secret passages of importance."

green leather linings, broad borders of gold, gilt edges, uncut, extremely rare, £16. 16s Anno Dom. 1590

This copy cost £17. 5s to Mr. Halliwell who considers it "the rarest of all the works of Thos. Nash, with the single exception of the Terrors of the Night." See his MS. note prefixed. Mr. Hazlitt makes mention of but two copies, one in the Bodleian and the other in the British Museum. The connection of this piece with the Martin Marprelate controversy, which is now receiving so much investigation, must enhance its interest in the collector's eye.

Very rare. The interesting information relative to the political and military occurrences of the times, is probably inaccessible elsewhere. Particulars are given of engagements with the Dutch; the Proclamation of King Charles the Second issued for the confinement of Popish Recusants within five miles of their respective dwellings, &c. To the antiquary as well as to the student of the reigns of Charles II and James II the above volumes promise a great deal of curious information.

A very curious volume, illustrative of the manners and customs, and of public taste and feeling principally during the reign of George III, but also in the time of George IV and William IV. One interesting feature is a number of handbills of exhibitions of all kinds: Monsters, Acrobats, Dwarfs, Comics, Magicians, etc. and advertisementes of theatres. Many of the extracts of a free character. Distributed throughout this volume are a number of political squibs, addresses, etc.

A rather dull mystification by a tolerably obscure writer. The island is supposed to be inhabited by the descendants of an Englishman, George Pines, amounting in the fourth generation to about ten thousand persons. The details are necessarily of a coarse and indecent character.
- The author of American Nuggets included the book in his list of Americana.

- 8990 ——— the same, new edition, 8 vols. folio, portrait of K. James I, calf neat, £2. 16s 1721

I know not wherefore, says Dr. Dibdin, but so it was, that when at College, I used to devote many a day, and frequently the greater part of a night, to the reading of RUSHWORTH. The account of the travels of Prince Charles and the Duke of Buckingham, in Spain, and of the intrigues of Gondomar, in promoting and thwarting, in turns, the intended match of the former with the Infanta, is not a little amusing ; while the speeches of King James to his parliament, present the speaker to the very life.

- 8993 SADEUR (J.) New Discovery of Terra Incognita Australis, or the Southern World, translated from the French, 18mo. vellum gilt, 21s 1693
- An extraordinary book from which Swift may have derived some ideas for the composition of Gulliver's Travels. It is purely the work of an erratic imagination, and was suppressed at Geneva when first printed there, for the impiety and indecency it was supposed to contain. Certainly there is nothing more curious in the records of fiction than the account of a nation entirely composed of Hermaphrodites, who found no difficulty in the reproduction of the species.

T. Cotes, 1640

VERY RARE. G. Daniel's copy sold for £44.; and good copies will in the future rise in value like all the early editions of pieces from the hand of the World's greatest poet. The poems in this volume are not wholly Shakspeare's; some by Ben Jonson and Beaumont, as well as Milton's and other lines upon Shakspeare, are added. Amongst these supplementary portions the prefatory doggerel by Leonard Digges is not the least interesting. It is a valuable contribution to our stock of knowledge concerning "the mighty master" and his plays; proving that his dramas always brought crowded houses, while Ben's Volpone and Alchemist—the most popular of all dramatic works by others than Shakspeare—sometimes scarcely defrayed the "sea-coale fire and doore-keepers." We also obtain incidentally the assurance that Othello, Much Ado about Nothing, Twelfth Night, and Julius Cæsar were amongst the prime favourites.

- 9011 SHAKE-SPEARE (W.) HIS TRUE CHRONICLE HISTORY OF THE LIFE AND DEATH OF KING LEAR, AND HIS THREE DAUGHTERS, sm. 4to. ORIGINAL EDITION, autograph of George Steevens (a few leaves mended and the head lines cut), green morocco, by C. Lewis, £16.

Printed for Nathaniel Butter, 1608

VERY RARE. Mr. Gardner's copy sold for £20. and Mr. Halliwell's for £20. 10s. This edition does not specify the place of sale.

There were two editions published in 1608, both by Nathaniel Butler, one in 44 leaves (the present) in which the publisher's name was not given on the title, and the other, 41 leaves, in which it was. The latter is usually considered the earlier of the two, but it is equally probable that the former was the first issued. The number of leaves would be an argument for this supposition; as reprints in ancient days were usually more compressed than the originals.

- 9012 SHAKSPEARE, PLAYS. The Genuine First Edition of 1623, folio, portrait, red morocco, gilt edges by F. Bedford, £200. 1623

Guaranteed genuine and perfect throughout, only the title doubtful.

A very good copy.

- 9014 SHAKESPEAR'S COMEDIES, HISTORIES, and TRAGEDIES, published according to the true original copies; and unto this Impression is added, SEVEN PLAYES, NEVER BEFORE PRINTED IN FOLIO, Third Folio Edition, genuine portrait by Droeshout, and Verses, but split and artistically laid down, a fine copy, size 12 $\frac{5}{8}$ by 8 $\frac{1}{2}$ inches, red MOROCCO extra, sides tooled in Harleian pattern, gilt edges, by BEDFORD, EXTREMELY RARE, £120.

London, printed for P. C. 1664

This issue must have been underprinted, as it is the rarest of all the folio editions; but the rarity was not caused, as most people like to say, by the great fire of London.

9015 SHAKESPEAR'S (Mr. William) Comedies, Histories, and Tragedies: published according to the true Original Copies: unto which is added seven Plays never before printed in folio, The Fourth Edition, folio, fine state of the ORIGINAL PORTRAIT BY DROESHOUT, verses and title, good library copy, bound in red morocco super extra, gilt edges, by Bedford, £25. Printed for H. Herringman, 1685

The seven Plays (which had already appeared in the third edition) are:—Pericles Prince of Tyre—The London Prodigal—The History of Thomas, Lord Cormwell—Sir John Oldecastle, Lord Cobham—The Puritan Widow—A Yorkshire Tragedy—The Tragedy of Locrine.

The second volume wants 2 leaves in the second part of Henry IV.

This edition is considered by many scholars to be the best, as the text is not so much overladen with notes as subsequent editions.

 "Mr. Roach Smith has brought to his task a thorough and familiar acquaintance with the writings of Roman and Greek authors, which enables him to interpret at a glance the significance of isolated and otherwise inscrutable facts and allusions. But besides these acquirements he possesses an enthusiastic spirit, which has neither been daunted by opposition nor chilled by indifference: and to this we owe the results recorded in his splendid volumes. How many thanks are due from all historical and antiquarian enquirers to Mr. Roach Smith for his public spirited labours! Fortunately, he needs no other memorial than his greatest work to attest his labours and services."—Leicester Chronicle.

Spenser says in his first dedication that he "in the greener times of my youth, composed these two Hymnes in the praise of Love and beautie, and finding that the same too much pleased those of like age and dispositiō, which being too vehemently carried with that kind of affection do . . . sucke out poyson to their strong passion. I resolved by way of retraction to make those two Hymnes of heavenly and celestiall love and beautie."

"This edition contains upwards of a hundred letters, and other original pieces of Swift's, never before published; and, among the rest, all that has been preserved of his correspondence with the celebrated Vanessa. Explanatory notes and remarks are supplied with great diligence to all the passages over which time may have thrown any obscurity; and the critical observations that are prefixed to the more considerable productions, are, with a reasonable allowance for an editor's partiality to his author, very candid and ingenuous."—Edinb. Review.

9091* SWIFT (Jon.) Works, with notes and Life by Sir Walter Scott, second and best edition, 19 vols. 8vo. russia, £13. 10s Edinburgh, 1824

VERY RARE and VALUABLE. The first edition of the first series of those famous essays in which Addison and Steele added a new grace and glory to English literature, must excite no common desire of possession in the mind of a true lover of books.

9096 TAYLOR (John) THE WATER POET, ALL HIS WORKES, being 63 in number, collected into one Volume, folio, THE GULSTON COPY, a small corner of a leaf torn off, with the engraved title (containing portrait beautifully facsimiled with pen and ink, but the portrait itself genuine, russia), £10. Lond. J. B. for James Boler, 1630

- 9097 TAYLOR (John) THE WATER POET, WORKS, quite perfect, with fine impression of the frontispiece, last leaf mended, fine copy in red morocco extra, gilt edges, by BEDFORD, £24. 1630

Nine-tenths of this volume are mere doggrel, but the illustration afforded by Taylor's Rhymes of the manners of contemporary society, entitle his works to an honourable place in an English library. He satirized Coryat, a person with whom he had much in common; they were both loud, vain, self-asserting pretenders to more merit and talent than they possessed.

"Edition la meilleure que l'on ait des œuvres de ce célèbre Ecossais."—Brunet.

Tom. I, Prolegomena; Rerum Scotticarum Historia; De Jure Regni apud Scotos; Detectio Mariæ Reginae; Chamæleon: Satira in Metellanum. Tom. II, Psalmorum Paraphrasis; Jephthes, Baptistes, Tragediæ; Alia Poemata; Linacri Rudimenta Grammat.; Epistolæ.

"Buchanan has excelled all his brethren in the splendour as well as in the variety of his triumphs. In ode, epigram, elegy, satire, and didactic, he has rivalled the first favourites of the Roman Muse. He assumes with equal ease the careless grace of Catullus,—the lyric ardours of Horace,—the soothing tenderness of Tibullus,—the sublime indignation of Juvenal,—and the philosophic majesty of Lucretius. To those who are strangers to Buchanan, these praises of a modern Latinist cannot fail to appear hyperbolical and absurd. How the thing was done it is indeed scarcely possible to imagine; it is sufficient for us to know and feel that it is so."

L'auteur était attachée à la reine Maria Stuart, et lui a dédié son livre.

9173 CHAMBRE, Recherche des Singularitez plus remarquables concernant l'estat d'Escosse, voué à Marie Royne d'Escosse—Discours de la Legitime Succession des Femmes aux possessions de leurs parens, et du gouvernement des Princesses—Histoires abrégées des Papes, Empereurs, et Roys de France, de la Grande Bretagne et de l'Escosse, no title—3 vols. in 1, 12mo. vellum, £3. 3s

Paris, Jean Fevrier, 1579

The description of this rare volume given by Lowndes (who mentions only three works as contained in it), seems more correct than that given by Brunet, who alleges that it is composed of four separate parts. The latter notion seems to arise from a phrase on the general title, by which the Historie Abregée would seem to contain the Popes and Emperors in a distinct section, which is not the case.

9174 FORDUN (JOANNIS DE) SCOTICHRONICON, cum Supplemento et Continuatione W. Boweri, etc. curâ W. Goodall, 2 vols. folio, original red morocco gilt, borders on the sides, FINE COPY, £5. 5s Edinb. 1759

A grand and monumental work, which, in spite of many drawbacks and falsifications, holds the same place in the historic literature of Scotland as the collections of early Chronicles made for Germany by Pertz, and for France by Bouquet.

9175 HAY (J.) Escossois, Demandes faictes aux Ministres d'Escosse touchant la Religion Chrétienne, 18mo. vellum, £2. 2s Bruzelles, 1695

9176 LE FERON (J.) Simbol Armorial des Armoiries de France, et d'Escoce, et de Lorraine, woodcut coats of arms, fine copy in red morocco, gilt edges, £4.

Paris, Menier, 1555

This very scarce work, unknown to Lowndes, is dedicated to "Marie de Lorraine Royne et Douairiere d'Escoce," widow of James V, and was prepared to celebrate the triple union effected by the promised marriage of Mary (Queen of Scots) her daughter with the Dauphin.

Queen of Scots.

9177 LESLÆI (Jo.) de Titulo et Jure Mariæ Scotorum Reginae quo Regni Angliæ successionem sibi vendicat; accedit ad Anglos et Scotos Patrænis, no genealogical table—Idem de illustrium Foeminarum in Repub. administranda autoritate—2 vols. in 1, sm. 4to. old calf gilt, rare, £2. 10s Rhemi, 1580

Two of the rarest books relating to Mary Queen of Scots. Bishop Leslie was one of Mary's staunchest adherents, and several times suffered imprisonment for his endeavours in her interest.

VERY RARE. This is the famous Common Prayer of Archbishop Laud, by which he and the king hoped to force the English liturgy upon the Scottish people, the actual result being to embitter the anti-prelatic feelings of the North, and to precipitate the civil war and downfall of Charles I. On the reverse of the last leaf is the catchword, "Certaine," which was cancelled in some copies, the intention having been to add Certain Prayers.

In this edition all the additional words in the Supplement are incorporated in alphabetical order in the first two volumes or body of the work, and the most popular meaning cited. This plan enables the reader to see at once whether the word wanted is given or not. One of the rarest volumes relating to Irish history, and the only source from which some of the works it contains can be derived. It contains the works and life of St. Columbanus, the works of Aileranus and Cumianus, lives of S. Comgall, Molua, Pulcherius, etc. The learned author, head of a Franciscan convent at Prague, was murdered near that city in 1631. Dr. Todd's copy fetched £70.

Occasional peculiarities in the spelling, and odd mistakes in writing the English and other foreign names which are cited in the text, seem to show that this volume was copied from an early MS. of the work.

- 9383 LA BRUNE (De) Relation de la Campagne d'Irlande 1691, sous le commandement du Général de GINKEL (Godard de Reede) 16mo. hf. bd. 15s Amsterdam, 1693

The earlier annals contain naturally a large amount of rubbish, but for all that, O'Flaherty's work is one of the most valuable and important ever written on the Antiquities of Ireland; and in the library of an Irish collector or student it is simply indispensable. The learning and research of the author when treating upon matters within the true historic range, are universally acknowledged.

Complete sets are very rare: Volume 23 and others are out of print. Now and then a set appears in a catalogue, but they usually turn out to be imperfect. Owing to the volumes having been issued in separate portions, each of which appears to be a complete volume.

- 9401 ULSTER JOURNAL OF ARCHÆOLOGY, 9 vols. 4to. complete, coloured maps and a large number of fine plates and woodcuts, £10. Belfast, 1853-62

Only nine volumes of this curious and interesting publication have appeared. The editor contemplates issuing a second series at some future period.

The Meeting of the British Association at Belfast, in 1852, gave rise to the publication of this Journal, which is devoted principally, but not exclusively, to the History and Antiquities of Ulster, the last Province which held out against the English sway. It was, at an earlier period, the battle-field of the native Irish Chieftains and the Scandinavian Sea-Kings. Other distinct races of men from time to time, are recorded to have effected settlements in the district, whose lineal descendants yet remain. The mountains still preserve their ancient Cairn and Cromlechs of pre-historic times; the vallies their earthen tumuli; the peat-bogs daily give up their ancient treasures of gold, silver, and bronze, teeming with the most varied and remarkable memorials of successive phases of society.—Extract from Prospectus.

- 9402 VALLANCEY, COLLECTANEA DE REBUS HIBERNICIS, published from original MSS. and illustrated by Notes and Remarks, in 6 vols. 8vo. portrait and plans, plates and cuts, 8vo. calf, £6. 6s Dublin, 1770-1804

Beyond the pieces mentioned in Lowndes' collation, this set has the following: in Vol. I. leaf of advertisement at end of No. 2; Vol. II. a general title; Vol. III. in No. 10, Ship Temple, a plate, and at page 577, 1 plate and 2 tables; in Vol. IV. the rare slip, paged 212*, (but plate 5 is absent); in Vol. V. a general title and the rare star pages, 147*, 148*, besides the bis plate 10 in the series of 1-13. Vol. VI. the rarest of all, is complete. The general titles are wanting in Vols. I, III, and IV. There is a blunder in Lowndes' description of Vol. III. which requires rectification: he includes as part of No. 12 in that volume, the "Ancient History of Ireland Vindicated," which was only published in Vol. IV, as No. 14.

- 9403 WARE (SIR JAMES) Works concerning Ireland, revised and improved by Walter Harris, 2 vols. folio, two portraits of the author, and plates, wanting the general titlepage, preliminary leaves, several plates, and spotted throughout, with the leaf of Proposals for publishing the work, calf, £3. Dublin, 1739-46

- 9414 AMERICAN WAR OF INDEPENDENCE. Autographs of the great leaders on both sides, including interesting Letters to the General Baron von Riedesel, from George Washington; Thomas Jefferson; Josa. Quincy, Braintree July 9, 1778; General Gates; the Traitor Arnold; General Greene; Adjutant General Keith; Col. Jonas Reed; General Heath; General Glover; General Macdougall; Col. Carter; Lafayette; Governor Tryon; General Knyphausen; Sir John Moore (of Corunna renown); Sir William Howe; General Simon Fraser; Sir Henry Clinton; General Burgoyne; Lord Cornwallis; Lord Sandwich; Lord Frederick North; Lord George Germain; Earl of Shelburne (Marquis of Lansdowne); and 44 others; all having reference to incidents of the American War, and all (except those of the three or four English statesmen) written in America, £60. 1777-83

EXTREMELY VALUABLE. Washington's autograph is simply a bold signature to a long letter concerning the exchange of prisoners, but almost all the rest are full autograph letters. Jefferson writes from Richmond, combining the sentiments of private friendship and public antagonism. Adjutant Keith's autograph is the official treaty with General Burgoyne for the disposal of his captive army; General Fraser writes from the Camp at Saratoga to announce reinforcements to Baron Riedesel, and says "I have no doubt, you will be able to drive the fellows out of Benington." This was 15th August, 1777; on the following day, Riedesel was beaten by "the fellows," and within three weeks General Fraser was killed and Burgoyne and his army prisoners. This was the work of General Gates, who, nevertheless, sixteen months later, writes in a friendly way to Riedesel about his "sweet little family." Sir Henry Clinton writes a pleasant friendly letter, Sir William Howe a gruff one, to Baron von Riedesel. General Burgoyne scribbles a long letter in courteous French, not many weeks before the battle of Saratoga. Lord Cornwallis congratulates Riedesel on his "exchange" from captivity, ten months before his own surrender.

This interesting collection was made by Baron von Riedesel, commander of the Brunswick contingent in the British army, during his service before the surrender at Saratoga, and his enforced three years' residence with the Americans, amongst whom he made many friends. On his return to Germany, his wife published Memoirs of their experiences in America.

This fine specimen of Early English typography is extremely rare in perfect and good condition. It contains the first edition of the Plowman's tale, and a collector of English poetry should secure an opportunity of acquiring the first complete edition of Chaucer. The collations of Messrs. Lowndes and Hazlitt are both faulty, and that of the Bibl. Anglo-Poetica is wrong.

This magnificent work cost £48. 6s unbound. With the third volume is bound up an UNPUBLISHED MANUSCRIPT, by SIR S. R. MEYRICK, uniform in size, with 10 large DRAWINGS: "Specimens of Roman Antiquities discovered at the Station, A.D. Decimur on the military way from Chichester to Pulborough. July 17, 1811."

- ACCOUNT OF ROMAN ANTIQUITIES DISCOVERED AT WOODCHESTER IN GLOUCESTERSHIRE, 40 plates, 34 being coloured in imitation of drawings 1797

A similar copy sold for £14. in Dent's sale. Lowndes says that only twelve copies were coloured in this superior manner.

Mr. G. Ormerod's copy, who has given a MS. Analysis of Contents. Concerning the latter-mentioned work of Lysons, he says: "Then follow such portions of an earlier series of Gloucestershire Views as appear to have been intended to form part of a prior publication, and to have been suppressed. The work is not mentioned by Upcott, or in the Life of S. Lysons, in Gentleman's Magazine, vol. 89 part ii, p. 274. There may have been two reasons for withdrawing the work. The subjects were not limited to Antiquities, and most of the prints were executed in his first and very inferior style. The collection however is of great interest, and it marks Mr. L's progress in engraving, and contains many views not engraved for the edition of 1803." Nor is the work mentioned by Lowndes. According to the Descriptions there should be 64 plates, but it is very probable the others were never engraved.

An original Map of the Roman Stations, Roads, and Buildings, within xv miles of Woodchester, partly coloured, a few extra plates, chiefly by Lysons, and a coloured drawing of a Tile Pavement by G. Ormerod, are inserted.

OVERSTONE'S TRACTS and other Publications on METALLIC and PAPER CURRENCY, 32s 1857

MISCELLANEOUS ECONOMICAL TRACTS, from the originals of Defoe, Elking, Franklin, Turgot, etc. £3. 10s 1859

Referring to the two volumes of Lord Overstone's own writings, Mr. MacCulloch says:—"Lord Overstone's Tracts are all excellent. Since Ricardo, no writer on currency has combined the same wide range of theoretical and of practical information as Lord Overstone, or has been so able to detect plausible fallacies, and to elicit and illustrate true principles, however obscured by sophistry, prejudice, or interest. The study of his Lordship's evidence before the Committee of 1857 is a high intellectual treat."

It has recently been stated that if attention had been given to Lord Overstone's warning words concerning Limited Liability, many a fleeced shareholder would have saved his money.

One of the most esteemed works in the whole range of English Topography. Large Paper copies are in much demand, and are rising in price. The above copy has a special interest and value. In Vol. II. are some extra leaves of text: 6 with the signatures *4N—4P, paged *325-335, containing an account of the parish of Cockerham, in Lonsdale. The other leaf is marked *3 E, and is a title. The absence of these leaves would not be detected by any blank in the notation; Lowndes does not mention their existence. I conclude this portion of the work was printed after the book was issued, and only a very few copies made. Its addition is most desirable, and renders the above copy a valuable acquisition.

"Whitaker shows us how possible it is for a powerful and cultivated mind to condescend to writing Topographical Works, and to mix in a very agreeable manner bold conjecture, deductions of general interest, applications of events in the past to the guidance of men of his own time, and spirited delineations both of manners and scenery, with those dry details which are indispensable in works of this kind.

"Dr. Whitaker's publications have had a great influence in raising the tone and character of topographical writing in England."—Gent's Mag., 1853, Aug.

This extremely rare ENGLISH SERVICE BOOK commences with a calendar, to each month of which there is a woodcut, and underneath each a verse. The rubrics to ALL THE PRAYERS are also IN ENGLISH, one of which states,

“ Our holy fader Sixtus the IIII. Pope hath graunted to all them that devoutly say this prayer before the ymage of our lady the some of XI. M. yers of pardon ;”

And another says, “ When saint Bernard was in prayers the dyvell said unto him, I knowe that there are certeyne verses in the sawter who that say them dayly shall not perysshe and he shall have knowledge of the daye that he shall dye, but the fende wolde not shewe them to saint Bernard, tham sayd saint Bernard, I shall say dayly the hole sawter. - VERY RARE. It is much scarcer than the corresponding "Songs of Innocence," and contains the best things that were composed by the distraught Genius who wrote and drew with such marvellous fancy and power. The text and illustrations are engraved together, and it is curious to observe how this strange workman combined technical skill and calligraphic excellence, with a wierd play of imagination, a subtle and exquisite sensibility, and a childlike simplicity of expression, mysterious and sublime in its charm,—that have never been excelled or even rivalled. The pieces contained in the volume are, Title as above; Introduction, "Hear the voice of the Bard;" Earth's Answer; the Clod and the Pebble; the Chimney Sweeper; a Poison Tree; Infant Sorrow; the Tyger; the Fly; the Sick Rose; the Human Abstract; a Little Girl Lost; the Little Girl Lost and the Little Girl Found, 3 leaves; the Garden of Love; the Angel; My pretty Rose-tree; Ah! Sunflower, the Lily, three on one leaf; a Little Boy Lost; to Tirzah; London; the Little Vagabond; Holy Thursday; Nurse's Song; the Schoolboy; being altogether (title included) 26 subjects on 25 leaves.

The object of this beautiful and interesting Work is to give examples of the Primitive Churches, and of the changes of style in Italian Architecture from the time of Constantine to the Fifteenth Century. Notwithstanding the number of publications which have been devoted to the elucidation of the forms and beauties of Ancient Architecture, there has not hitherto been one which sufficiently illustrates its early stages, and progressive advance in Italy, a subject full of interest to the Churchman, as well as to the Antiquary, and the Architect—Italy being the only country in which examples of the earliest period still remain, and in which the chain is unbroken.

In producing this Work no expense has been spared to render it worthy of the reputation of the Author, who is already well known to the public by his Architectural Tour in Normandy, and his work on the Saracenic and Norman Remains in Sicily. The Drawings were all executed on the spot, expressly for this work, by Artists of acknowledged talents and fidelity, and the Engravings are on a scale sufficiently large to give a just idea of the Buildings.

- 9895 ——— the same, in imitation of the original drawings, THE PLATES COLOURED AND MOUNTED, with TEXT, (pub. at £21.) in 4 impl. folio portfolios, £12. 12s 1869-74
- Changes having taken place in some of the picturesque edifices delineated by the pencil of Mr. Nash, whilst others appear to demand a fuller description, the letter-press matter of the original work has been re-edited and greatly extended by Mr. J. Corbet Anderson, and so, by corrections and additions, bringing down to our own time the history of the mansions depicted.
- The great and unlooked-for success of the new edition of this famous work induced the Proprietors to prepare for sale a limited number of copies COLOURED BY HAND IN THE BEST STYLE, AND MOUNTED ON CARDBOARD. These copies, although now issued at one-half the price of the former publication, will be found on inspection to be in no way inferior, every care having been taken to insure faithful copies of the ORIGINAL SKETCHES, which were drawn and coloured on the spot, with all but the finish of a picture. The figures introduced, both as regards their costume and occupations, are all from authority; and the object of their introduction has been not merely an eye to pictorial effect, but a desire to identify the edifices they are intended to illustrate with the characters and habits of a people that have now passed away, and to represent, in its various peculiarities, “the very age and body of the time.”

- 9905 ORMEROD'S HISTORY OF CHESHIRE, a new issue, 3 vols. folio, in 15 parts, with all the plates and woodcuts of the original edition 1876

This new edition is dedicated by special permission to H.R.H. the Prince of Wales, Palatine of Chester, and is edited by THOMAS HELSBY, Esq., of Lincoln's Inn. It will be considerably enlarged and corrected throughout, and will contain all the Illustrations of the first edition, from the original copper plates, with fresh heraldic designs. The whole work will be completed in about fifteen Parts, published as nearly as possible at intervals of three months, and will contain throughout new and ornate heraldic Woodcuts by the most eminent heraldic engravers, and such additional Illustrations in the shape of Seals as may be considered advisable.

Small paper edition, price One Guinea each Part. Large paper edition, which will contain the names and addresses of the subscribers, price One Guinea and a Half each Part.

In consequence of the large cost entailed in the production of the work for mere printing and engraving alone, irrespective of a very considerable outlay many years ago in securing the whole of the engravings of the original edition, and of other large items of expenditure, the Publishers regret that they have no alternative than to permanently raise the prices of the work to all who do not commence to subscribe before the completion of the first Five Parts.

First Edition, calf, £2. 16s

Privately printed in the year 1670

Rare and curious. It is bound up with a number of rare tracts by and upon Colonel John Lilburn, dated from 1646 to 1649, all brought together about the same time as Penn's trial was secretly printed, and bound up with it as a collection of examples of the violation by authority of the rights of Englishmen.

- 9911 PEPYS. DIARY AND CORRESPONDENCE OF SAMUEL PEPYS, Esq. F.R.S. from his MS. Cypher in the Pepysian Library, with a Life and Notes by RICHARD, LORD BRAYBROOKE; deciphered with Additional Notes by the Rev. MYNORS BRIGHT, M.A., President and Senior Fellow of Magdalene College, Cambridge, with numerous portraits from the collection in the Pepysian Library, printed in permanent Woodbury type, Vol. I (to be completed in 6 vols.) 8vo. cloth, 10s 6d 1875

This fine library edition will contain above one-third entirely fresh and unpublished matter of considerable interest, and perhaps more thoroughly characteristic of the author than any that has hitherto appeared, and the whole of his "Curtain Lectures" will be included. It is being printed by Messrs. Whittingham and Wilkins at the Chiswick Press, on fine ribbed paper.

"PEPYS'S DIARY.—It is well known that Lord Braybrooke's edition of Pepys's Diary does not contain anything like a complete transcript of the original manuscript in Magdalene College, Cambridge, although large additions were made to the different issues. Pepys's numerous admirers will therefore be glad to learn that they may expect soon to have in their hands a complete edition of the Diary. Mr. Mynors Bright, the President of the College, has been engaged for about eight years in deciphering the manuscript, and having completed his work, he is now about to publish it. We have examined one of the volumes, and find that there is about one-third of additional matter not printed in the last edition, and much of this is of more interest than what is printed. Moreover, in this one volume about 140 errors have been corrected in the printed text, and many of these are glaring mistakes, the correction of which is of importance to the sense of the passages in which they occur. We understand that this new edition is very shortly to be issued by Messrs. Bickers and Son in a handsome library form, with numerous portraits. Probably several of the entries will have to be left out as too indecent for publication, but we hope that in all cases stars will be introduced to show where any passage has been omitted."—Academy.

The excessive rarity of Prynne's Records owing to the destruction of the entire impression of the first volume (with the exception of about 25 copies) in the great Fire of London, is too well known to collectors to require further comment. The Duke of Sussex's copy sold for £155.; Willett's for £152. 5s; and this in the Stowe sale for £140. The price which is now placed upon the Duke of Buckingham's copy marks the steady and increasing enhancement in the value of rare old English books since the time of the sales above cited.

- Notwithstanding the beauty and excellence of the various works on Polychromatic Ornament which have appeared during the last few years, there is still an opening for an exhaustive work which combines historical arrangement with unequalled excellence of mechanical execution. As a mere collection of coloured plates, the above forms a work of surpassing beauty; and, as a text book for the artist and designer, it requires only to be seen to be considered indispensable. The specimens illustrating the various changes of Ornamental Art have been selected with the greatest judgment, arranged with true artistic skill, and produced in the perfect manner only now rendered possible by recent improvements in Chromolithography.

Baile atha Cliath [Dublin] Seon Francke alias Franckton, 1608

EXTREMELY RARE, as might be supposed, from many causes, the chief of which was the destruction by sectaries of the adverse majority of every copy that came in their way during the two centuries which followed the impression of the book.

Few productions of the early Irish press can now be had, and there is none of them which surpasses in interest or rarity the one above described. The only other book of any pretensions which had come out in Dublin was a reprint of the English Common Prayer, but the Irish Testament of 1603 and the Liturgy in Irish of 1608 constitute the first important work of that press, and the very circumstance of their appearance in the native language (in which nothing of intrinsic value had yet been produced), may be said to stamp them with the character of national monuments.

- 10056 LEABHAR NA H-UIDHRI: Book of the Dun-Cow, a collection of Pieces in Prose and Verse, in Irish, folio, lithographed in facsimile from the original vellum MS. written by Maolmúiri mac Ceileachair, grandson of Conn nam-Bocht, about the end of the eleventh Century, with the late Professor O'Curry's catalogue of its contents added in letterpress, and with 2 facsimiles in colours, vellum, £2. 5s

For the Royal Irish Academy, Dublin, 1870

Only 200 copies were made of this valuable facsimile of the oldest existing Manuscript in Irish, the original of which is in possession of the Academy. The historical and philological value of the contents of this volume is so well recognized that the publication of the text is a munificent boon to Celtic scholars. One part of the contents is a poem written in the year 592 by Dallan Forgaill, with a gloss interlined by Maolmúiri.

— the above, 2 vols. sm. folio, uniformly bound in hf. green morocco, both from the Kelly library, £15.

Dublin, 1711-3

The List of the Claims is extremely rare; it was rigidly suppressed. The decisions on the Claims have been copied in the present century by the O'Kelly himself, from the excessively scarce official book of 1703. The two volumes contain a mass of evidence which forms one of the most valuable records of modern Irish history, as verifying the settlement of property, and the derivation of the title of the ancestors of the present possessors.

Foster's Genealogical Publications:

- 10214 THE VISITATION OF YORKSHIRE, made in the years 1584-5, by Robert Glover, Somerset Herald; to which is added, the subsequent Visitation made in 1612, by Richard St. George, Norroy King of Arms, with several additional Pedigrees, including "The Arms taken out of Churches and Houses at Yorkshire Visitation, 1584-5," "Sir William Fayrfax' Booke of Arms," and other Heraldic Lists, with Copious Indices, edited by Joseph Foster, Compiler of the Yorkshire and Lancashire Collections of Pedigrees, and also editor of the Lincolnshire Collection, uniform in size and binding with the Publications of the Surtees Society, £2. 12s 6d 1875
- 10215 ——— the same, uniform in size and binding with the Publications of the Harleian Society, £3. 3s 1875
- 10216 ——— PEDIGREES OF THE COUNTY FAMILIES OF ENGLAND:

YORKSHIRE, 3 vols. 4to. £8. 8s

LANCASHIRE, 1 stout vol. 4to. with many cuts of Arms, and all the Pedigrees most carefully given in full, (pub. at £3. 3s) cloth, £2. 2s 1873

The representatives of nearly every family have accorded the author ready assistance in verifying their respective pedigrees, thus ensuring, as far as practicable, that accuracy which it is always desirable to attain. These Pedigrees differ from those in "Burke's Landed Gentry," inasmuch as they are not condensed, but, for the most part, extracted in full from the old County Histories, which are now comparatively unobtainable. In some instances the larger ones contain several families; and as in all cases the younger branches of each family are represented as fully and in the same manner as that of the head of the family, considerable additional interest and popularity is naturally acquired.

- 10217 FORD (John) The Broken Heart, a tragedy, sm. 4to. First Edition, hf. morocco, RARE, 20s 1633
- 10218 ——— Love's Sacrifice, a tragedie received generally well, sm. 4to. First Edition, hf. morocco, RARE, 35s 1633

Overrated by Charles Lamb, undervalued by Hazlitt, Ford still remains one of the greater stars in the galaxy of Old English Dramatists. These two plays are full of his defects and merits—intensity of tragic horror, and a fierce gloating over images of lust and sin.

- 10219 FOXE (John) Actes and MONUMENTS of Matters most special happening in the Church (BOOK OF MARTYRS), 2 vols. folio, FIFTH EDITION, many woodcuts, hf. calf, £2. 16s London, P. Short, 1596-7
- An edition highly praised by Dibdin, who says that his own copy was very imperfect. In the above, vol. i wants leaf U v; leaf R i is wormed; title and the two woodcuts detached from the text are torn in the margins and mounted. In vol. ii four leaves (4 G v and vi, and 4 H i) are torn in the bottom margin.

This third edition of the History and Antiquities of the important County of Dorsetshire is much augmented by assistance rendered to the editors by gentlemen (some of whose names are mentioned in their Preface), either residing in or connected with the County. Its value is further enhanced by many fine engravings by Le Keux, who has been specially retained for the production of Views of Gentlemen's Seats, in addition to some of the old plates which still retain a peculiar interest.

- 10256 INDEX EXPURGATORIUS, the only Vatican Index of this kind ever published, an exact reprint; edited, with a preface, by R. GIBBINGS, thick 12mo. (pub. at 12s 6d) cloth, 7s 6d; or hf. calf, 9s Dublin, 1837

The book is curious in itself as containing a special treatment of the books censured, the heterodox passages being given and the corrections supplied, not in a general but a particular and minute way. The preface contains 86 learned pages which conduct the reader to a knowledge of almost everything upon this curious subject.

In some copies, plates of the Trees, which were first issued in the royal octavo edition, and which were printed on folio paper for the purpose, are inserted.

Bohn in his edition of Lowndes, says the second and third volumes were published "with so much irregularity that the copies are apt to vary as well in the number of the plates as in the quality of the colouring." The number of the plates in the third volume is erroneously given as 18, evidently a misprint for 23.

It is impossible to speak in terms too high of this Collection of Portraits. No display of art can afford us more amusement and gratification. "It is impossible," says Sir Walter Scott, "to conceive a work which ought to be more interesting to the present age." Historical Portraits are illustrations of History, and in this Collection are comprised the noblest of our fathers as they lived, taken from the authentic paintings of their contemporaries.

"The folio is the only library edition, the plates of which were destroyed after publication. The plan is admirable, and the execution of it throughout is entitled to equal praise. Such a union of various talents—such a Gallery of illustrious dead, was scarcely ever before presented to the eyes of the public, in colours almost as vivid and sparkling as if the originals occupied the canvas whence these copies were taken."—DIBDIN.

This communication includes a long letter from Eliot, the Apostle of the Indians, who is described as already so skilled in the Indian tongue that he preached regularly in it to the natives.
It is otherwise very interesting, because of the details which go to make up Eliot's biography, and to shew the nature of his work among the Red men and their feelings with regard to him.

The facsimiles of the Niello-Engravings, formerly in the possession of Sir Mark Sykes, are executed on silver, in exact imitation of the originals, besides which an impression of each plate is given on India paper. Very few copies have been printed.

This beautiful work may fairly be stated to be unpublished, as very few copies were ever distributed, and those chiefly as presents by the late Proprietor. The accurate knowledge of the late Mr. Ottley in this peculiar department of the Fine Arts is here displayed. It would be impossible for the Collector to have more faithful copies of the rare specimens contained in the present elegant volume.

WORNUM, atlas folio, LARGE PAPER, SPLENDID ARTIST'S INDIA PROOFS (pub. at £20.) half morocco, gilt edges, £12. 12s 1875

This new edition has excellent impressions, and copies will soon rise in price.

"To those whose memories are old enough to go back through any considerable portion of Turner's life, or who may have seen the majority of the pictures he painted during so many years of loving labour, it will be at once manifest that no better selection could have been made of paintings which could be got at by any reasonable means. Many of his grandest productions are in this series of engravings, and the ablest landscape engravers of the day have been employed on the plates, among which are some that, we feel assured, Turner himself would have been delighted to see. These proof impressions constitute a volume of exceeding beauty, which deserves to find a place in the library of every man of taste. The number of copies printed is too limited for a wide circulation, but, on that account, the rarity of the publication makes it the more valuable.

"If we accept as evidence with regard to the majority of Turner's pictures, what is undeniably true concerning some, that every year is causing their beauty to fade, and depreciating their worth—and such an opinion is stoutly maintained by many competent judges—then assuredly every good engraving from his pictures must hereafter have almost a priceless value. What would not the lovers of art now give for perfect copies of the works of the Greek sculptors—of those works the names of which only have come down to us, or of those whereof we possess only fragments, but such fragments as render us too sensible of the loss we have sustained? If the art of the engraver had not been employed upon reproduction, how little, comparatively, would be known of those great pictures of past ages with which, through his aid, we are now well acquainted—pictures that time, carelessness, or ill-use, or all combined, have nearly destroyed—of the ‘Transfiguration’ of Raffaele, the ‘Last Judgment’ of Michael Angelo, the ‘St. Jerome’ of Domenichino, and, in truth, of a very large number of the paintings that almost immediately followed the revival of art in the fourteenth century? The perishable nature of the materials with which Turner worked, especially during, at least, the latter half of his life, is a fact patent to all who have taken pains to examine his pictures; if, then, half a century, or even a quarter of a century, has effected so much mischief, what will they have to show at the end of two or three centuries? It is this consideration which must, and will, have its due weight, with regard to any engravings executed from them,

‘Before that Time’s effacing fingers
Have swept the line where beauty lingers.’

“A series of engravings from Turner’s finest pictures, and of a size and quality commensurate with their importance, has not till now been offered to the public; nor, indeed, could it have been produced but for the glorious legacy bequeathed to the country. During his lifetime he exercised supreme control over his works, and would allow none to be engraved but what he chose; the large sums, moreover, paid to him for ‘touching the proofs,’ which he considered equivalent to what he would have received for copyright, acted almost as a prohibition to such engravings getting into the hands of any but the opulent.

“It is not too much to affirm that a more beautiful and worthy tribute to the genius of the great painter does not exist, and is not likely to exist at any future time.”—Art Journal.

 "An important feature in the present volume is, that the series is now placed in connection with Agassiz's invaluable Nomenclator Zoologicus. In that work the index to recorded genera and subgenera of animals was brought down to 1846, and a continuation by Count A. von Marschall (Vienna, 1873) carried it on to 1868. Annual lists of a similar nature have appeared in the Zoological Record since 1870, and Mr. Rye has done well in issuing with the present volume a catalogue for 1869, thus filling up the blank and making the record complete from the beginning of the bi-normal system down to the end of 1873."—Academy, July 3, 1875.

SHARPE (THOMASIN ELIZABETH) A ROYAL DESCENT ; with other Pedigrees and Memorials, 4to. cloth, only 100 copies printed, and of these merely 40 purchasable, cloth, 28s Privately printed, 1875

This volume embodies valuable historical matter and illustrations of literary history, which will be found interesting by many persons, besides the members of the nine families, an exposition of whose descent from Edward I is the special object of the work.

Part I consists of the Descent from Edward I, of nine distinct families, most of them not treated of before by Genealogists, and some of the descendants of which are traced to the United States of America at the present day. One of these nine families is Lord Belper's, whose descent in the male line is well known, but whose pedigree in the female line appears here for the first time.

Part I is, however, but a chain from which hangs Part II, consisting of the pedigrees of twelve families, allied with those forming the Royal Descent. Here occur the names of "Cope of Hanwell, Icomb, and Brewerne," Clere of Stokesby, Paston of Paston, Caryll of Warnham, and Woodroffe of Poyle; all these contain new matter, and some corrections of time-honoured errors. Among the new names is that of Mr. Ellis, late the President of the Philological Society, F.R.S., etc.

Part III consists of other Royal Descents of the same persons and contains an important correction as to the descent of the Ancient Barony of de Molines.

Part IV is Heraldic, and an appendix concludes the book, containing entirely new matter.

An account book of the 17th century, and some letters of the 18th century are inserted.

The whole is derived from original sources as much as possible; from the Record Office, and Will Office, the College of Arms, Parish Registers, Marriage Allegations, and Deeds in possession of the families concerned. Among numerous other names occur Frewen, Ffarington, Atherton of Atherton, Whitsune of Apley, Cradock of Betley, Holborne (Baronets), Chenworth, Praed, Stubbs, Gouldsmyth, Harding, Eastwick, Plimley, Kelly, Buckner, Sharpe, Astley, Belknap, etc.

Collateral kinship, existing between the principal families mentioned in the book and many settled in America, cannot fail to render Miss Sharpe's work interesting to amateurs and collectors in the United States.

All the early volumes are out of print in Calcutta, and sell there at exorbitant prices. The Bengal Journal is a continuation of the "Asiatic Researches;" it is a most valuable periodical, devoted to Oriental Literature, Science, Antiquities, Geography, Art, &c. No public Library can do without this important work; it forms, with the Asiatic Researches, one of the noblest monuments of British dominion in the East.

The Bengal Journal was published in the following order:—SERIES I, 1832 to Dec. 1838, 84 Nos.; SERIES II, Jan. 1839 to Dec. 1846, 89 Nos. or Nos. 85 to 173, Old Series; SERIES III, (publishing at the present time), 1847 to 1866, in which the old numeration stopped short at No. 297, being the end of Vol. 33, 1864. In 1865 the Society commenced to issue the Journal in two divisions: I, History, Literature, etc.; II, Physical Science; and in this order it has continued to be published.

- 10505 BARROS Y COUTO, DECADAS DA ASIA. BARROS, Decadas I-III, Lisboa, Jorge Rodriguez, 1628—BARROS, Decada IV, Madrid, Impressao Real, 1615—COUTO, Decadas IV-VII, original editions, 4 vols. Lisboa, Pedro Crasbeeck, 1602-16—together 8 vols. sm. folio, in the original calf binding, fine copies, VERY RARE, £25. 1602-28

One of the rarest parts of the present copy is the 4th Decade of Barros; its title and last couple of leaves are mended, but it is of the original edition, which was never reprinted except in 8vo. form in modern times. The cause of its rarity is that it was left unfinished, and only appeared posthumously, thirteen years after Couto had endeavoured to supply the want of it with his own fourth Decade. The eighth Decade of Couto was not printed till 1673; and the fragments of IX-XII only in 1736, and later.

This edition of Couto is also very rare. It contains in addition to the above copy the whole Eighth Decade, and fragments of the Ninth, which were never printed till 1736.

- 10507 BARROS, DECADAS DA ASIA, I-III, Lisboa, 1628—IV, Madrid, 1615, very fine copy—together 4 vols. sm. folio, maps, Spanish calf gilt, VERY RARE, £5. 1615-28

A portrait of Barros is added to the first volume.

 This interesting publication is the rival of the celebrated Bengal Journal, both in its rarity and in its importance to scholars. The articles are equally varied and ably written, the papers on Natural History, Mythology, Antiquities, and Ethnology, being especially valuable, and written by the most distinguished men.
 Some of the later numbers as well as the early ones are extremely rare. No. 39 was never published; the First Series ended with 38, and by a mistake the second began with No. 40 instead of 39.

 One of the most learned and important works ever published in the department of historical geography, and probably without a rival in our own time. It is not too much to say that this work on Marco Polo supersedes nearly everything previously existent, and throws a greater light upon the geography of Central Asia, and its history during the middle ages, than could be obtained from whole libraries of other books, and a lifetime of practical experiences.

- 10797 BURTON'S (Isabel) Inner Life of Syria, Palestine, and the Holy Land,
2 vols. 8vo. two portraits, cloth, 21s 1875
A very remarkable work, giving a most vivid picture of Domestic Life in Syria; incidentally Mrs. Burton echoes also the astonishment of the civilized world that the services of a man like her husband, endowed with such exceptional energy, tact and scholarship as are rarely combined in one individual should not have been better utilized and rewarded by his country. Captain Burton is undoubtedly well fitted to be the nation's representative on the borders of Europe and Asia, whether in dealing with Turks or Russians.

- 10829 SUCHEN (Ludolphus de) De Terra Sancta et Itinere Iherosilomitano et de Statu ejus et aliis mirabilibus que in mari conspiciuntur videlicet Mediterraneo, sm. folio, Editio Princeps, fine large copy in bds. VERY RARE, £8. 8s (typis H. Eggesteyn), s. a. (circ. 1470)

There is no date, place, or printer's name to the above excessively rare volume, but the types are those of Eggesteyn, who printed two editions almost at the same time, each on thirty-four leaves, but the first as above in long lines, and the second in double columns.

Ludolf, Rector or Vicar of Suchen, wrote in 1350 this account of his Oriental experiences during five years, 1336-41; saying that, as many others who had made one short pilgrimage found plenty to write about, so he with his long experience might relate a little. It is a narrative of considerable interest, as the reverend author seems to have been a very observant traveller.

A nearly exhaustive work, based upon close study of books and a long personal experience of Gipsy life. In fact, the much vaunted adventures of Mr. Borrow were trifles in comparison with the patient investigation of Mr. Paspati; and the result of the labours of each is proportionate. In this examination of the Gipsy of Eastern Europe, we have what is philologically the most valuable study of its kind, as it gives us the oldest European form of the Gipsy language.

It contains the complete history of Shah Abbas from his accession to his death, followed by the lives of the eminent men of his reign, (wanting the last leaf.) This, although the chief bulk of the Alam Ara, forms really Vol. II and Appendix, the first volume, which is not in this copy, consisting of a recital of the childhood of Shah Abbas, and the lives of the kings who reigned from that time to his own accession.

- 11826 ——— Selections from his Poems, translated from the Persian by Herman Bicknell, 4to. illuminated frontispiece, title-page and borders, a beautifully printed volume in gilt cloth, 36s 1875
This work will probably remain the standard English representative of the great Persian lyrist. It may not in some respects equal the prose version in the little volume of extracts privately printed by Mr. Robinson, of Manchester, but it is an attractive looking book, with a larger proportion of selections, fairly rendered in English verse. To each ode there is given as a heading the first line of the Persian original.

This is an important historical work, a translation of which was commenced by Dr. Bird for the Oriental Translation Fund, but he only completed one volume out of five or six. The Appendix contains biographical and geographical information as a complement to the purely historical body of the work. The rarity of the MS. is evinced by the fact that Dr. Bird made his version from a copy transcribed in India in 1822, and the statement in his preface that no MS. of the work was then to be found in any of the Persian collections in Europe.

rather stained, two vols. in oak boards (one broken) the other in vellum, £36. In Complutensi Universitate, A. G. de Brocario, 1514-17
A complete copy of the Ximenez Polyglot Bible, which was the first issued, is of extraordinary rarity. All the volumes have the Cardinal's arms in red on the titles, which are printed within woodcut borders. The fourth part, and the 'Vocabularium,' which are bound together, are in splendid condition. I recently sold the Vocabulary alone for £10. It is the rarest portion of the work.

- 11975 BIBLIA SACRA (POLYGLOTTA) Ebraice, Chaldaice, Græce, Latine, Germanice, Italice (rectius SLAVONICE) studio Eliæ HUTTERI, stout folio, in the original boards, with stamped leather back, fine copy, £4. 10s
Noribergæ, 1599

This stout volume, which contains the Pentateuch only, belongs to the rarest issue of the book—that in which the sixth language is Slavonic, and not French, German, or Italian (although the latter is mentioned on the title). Hutter did not finish his Old Testament Polyglott.

- 12031 ——— the same, 2 vols. a very fine copy, in olive morocco, gilt edges, £4. 4s 1711
An extremely valuable work on the law, legends, customs, and ceremonies of the Jews. Although written simply to show the wickedness of their practices, the knowledge and reading of the author were such that every succeeding writer who wished to speak on the same subject has borrowed, seldom with acknowledgment, from Eisenmenger. This book may be called a Talmudic and Rabbinical Encyclopædia for the use of Christians.

See a long description of this interesting copy of a great work in the Bibliotheca Sussexiana, in which the age of the MS. is referred to the 12th century. With the exception of this one mistake, that description gives a fair account of the book. A note in large characters on the last page records that the scribe was Joseph, son of Samuel Jaffa of Nuernberg, a celebrated German Rabbi, who went to reside in Constantinople in the later part of the sixteenth century.

The Mishna is the oldest and most important body of the Hebrew traditions. The Talmud (of Babylon or of Jerusalem) is composed of the Mishna, with the supplementary (Jerusalem or Babylonian) Gemara, a later collection of traditions.

The value of this work cannot be too highly estimated. The text is given in Hebrew and Latin, the commentaries of Bartenora and Maimonides, as well as the copious notes of Guisius, Surenhsius, and others, being in Latin only.

Unsurpassed in Arabic literature as a masterpiece of historical composition. It is divided into three great sections, of which the first, called the Introduction, contains a grand review of all the departments of human knowledge with regard to their bearing upon the history of the world. This is followed by the chronicles of the Arabs, under which name is comprised not only the Khalifat, but also all the eastern dynasties which sprang from its decay. The third contains the history of the Berbers and Mohammedans of West Africa. Of these three parts the first and the third have been printed in Europe, but the Bulac edition above described is the only one which contains the second section, which occupies two-thirds of the book, and which is naturally the most important of all, from the standpoint of universal history. Ibn Khaldun was at first the captive, and afterwards the friend of Timur. He died at the beginning of the fifteenth century.

- The oldest general History in Mahomedan literature, and for some periods of time, the only source of authentic information which we possess. It was composed in Arabic early in the tenth century of the Christian era, but the Persian version which was executed by Belami some fifty years later has completely effaced the original, of which only some fragments are now in existence. Even Belami's translation became rare, and a sort of second edition of his text considerably altered became current at a much later date. Duboux (who commenced this French translation), and Zotenberg, who continued it, worked from the original and best edition of the Persian text.

H. 1286
- Al-Utbi, who lived at the court of Mahmud of Ghazni, has left an historical work of great value, as being contemporary with the events which it records. The other writers who treat of the same period of time are all some centuries later, and consequently less authentic. His style is obscure and difficult, and this is the reason why the commentary of al Menini, composed in the last century, is looked upon as the proper source for the study of Utbi's history.

- This Æthiopic Lectionary contains principally Translations from the Homilies and Commentaries of St. Cyril Patriarch of Alexandria. There are also short extracts or quotations from various Bishops of the Eastern Church, e.g., Atticus, Antiochus, Amphiloehus (of Cyrene), Severus (of Antioch), Theophilus, Theodotus (of Ancyra), Zarginus (Bishop of Constantinople), and others; very interesting for the Church historian. The Commentaries and Homilies of Cyril deal with points of doctrine and morality, in connection with all the Canonical Books of the New Testament, except the Revelation of St. John.
- The flyleaf at the commencement of the MS. (which is beautifully written throughout) contains four brief notices (1) of the family of the Emperor Theodosius, (2) of the Monastery of the Egyptian monk Serapion, (3) of Visions of St. Cyril, (4) an extract from the writings of Marcion.
- The MS. consists of 112 pages, and is bound (probably at Cairo) in handsome red leather. Its date is about the middle of the fifteenth century. The dialect in which it is written is the Geez or Ancient language of Abyssinia.

There is some confusion in the numbering of this Journal. The following is an accurate collation:—No. 1, 1845-46 (a reprint exists dated 1859); No. 2, May '46—
Feb. '47; 3, May '47—April '48; 4, June '48—Aug. '49; 5, June '49—Aug. 50.

These 5 numbers must be looked upon as the first volume (although no title or index exists, and the pagination of each part is independent of the others) as

For practical purposes, to architects a small paper copy might suffice; but gentlemen desirous of adding a noble book in its finest appearance to their library, must have a LARGE PAPER copy.

"Who has not heard of the Alhambra? Who does not connect its name with all there is of the romantic and the beautiful in Spain? By nature as well by exquisite art, the very diamond and pearl of Spain, the Alhambra of Granada is the spot to which every traveller, from North and South, and West and East, first bends his steps on landing in Spain. The Alhambra is the greatest relic of exotic Moorish art in Spain; here, for hundreds of years, the Moor exerted all the power of his mind and the force of his riches to make a natural and artificial paradise; and the Moor succeeded. The Alhambra stands alone, a joy of the whole earth, deserted though its courts and untenanted its avenues. Spoilt as it has been by the spoilers of successive generations—by the Church party under Ferdinand and Isabella—by the French in 1812—by earthquake in 1821, yet still the Alhambra continues the pride and glory of Moorish Spain; and the magnificent view from its towers, whence you look out on the wild range of the snow-capped Alpujarras, on the lovely irrigated plains of verdure, on stareliest trees, and sparkling waters, and wooded valleys almost tropical in their luxuriance, presenting all that is highest in art and most lovely in nature, unites a vision unequalled in the whole world."

The Times Madrid Correspondent, May 19, 1876.

Warsaw, 1859-64
Best edition of this great work, which is only second to the Bible in Hebrew literature. As the Puranas are to the Vedas, so is the Talmud to the Scriptures; full of strange and curious legends which shew what a superincumbent mass of new tradition grew over the simpler teachings of the ancient Book. Yet it is not an idle study to examine these marvellous stories and fantastic subtleties, since they contain the origin and the illustration of innumerable ideas and beliefs that permeate the history of the Christian Church.

- 13830* ——— the same, A VERY FINE COPY, carefully bound by Bedford, in dark red morocco, gilt edges, £50. 1540-41
- FIRST EDITION, an EXCESSIVELY SCARCE book, and a great desideratum for the collector, especially such a fine copy as I have just had choicely bound by Bedford.
- It is a Lutheran version made by Olaus and Laurentius Petri. See Brunet, who does not give a collation, which I therefore subjoin. Collation: A to X, Aa to cc, AA-NN, Aaa to Zzz, AAa to PPp (end of Old Testament), A to Ee, all in sixes, except X (4), cc (8), Zzz (8), PPp (5), and in New Testament Ee (3). X4 contains on one side a fine woodcut of Pharaoh's dream, the obverse is blank. There are also, "Christ on the Cross," "Job and his Friends," "The Deluge" an exceedingly fine engraving of "Joshua," and many other remarkable woodcuts and scroll initial letters in the book, including a woodcut map of Asia, Africa, and Europe.

A book of singular interest and curiosity, of very great scarcity, and full of extremely pleasing and beautiful ornaments in the shape of charming woodcut borders around each page. COLLATION: Title, woodcut Coat of Arms, one leaf, pp. 2-40, folding table "Släckt-Register," 2 leaves, F and F 2. This valuable volume is an extremely scarce and curious genealogy of one of the greatest families in Sweden, printed at the private press of a member of the house, Count P. Brahe, in the 17th Century. All books issued by this nobleman are rare, and only a small number of copies were printed, a usage likely to have been intensified in the case of his compiling works affecting his own family, of which he naturally confined the circulation to his friends.

- 13863 BREVIARIUM LINCOPENSE, thick square 12mo. printed in red and black, imperfect, hf. calf, VERY SCARCE, £5.

Nurnberg, Georg Stuchs, 1495

Extremely rare, no copy is described or quoted by Brunet or Ebert. The Dictionnaire de Géographie says: "LINCOPIA, Civitas episcopalis, Lincöping, ville de Suède, chef-lieu de prefecture au S. O. de Stockholm. Un BREVIARIUM LINCOPENSE est imprimée à Nuremberg par Georg Stuchs, en 1493, in 8vo. mais l'imprimerie ne pénètre dans cette ville épiscopale qu'en 1635." Neither Warmholtz or Troil mention a perfect copy.

- 13864 BREVIARIUM secundum usum Ecclesie UPSALIENSIS, 2 parts in 1 vol. thick sm. 8vo. printed in two columns in red and black, 36 lines to a page, with the autographs of 'E. M. Fant and J. A. A. Ludeke, hf. calf, EXCESSIVELY RARE, £30. Holmiæ, J. Fabri, 1496

A great curiosity, and one of the rarities of Swedish Prototypography. Only 3 copies are mentioned in Schröder's account of Early Printing in Sweden, all in public libraries. The above contains 307 leaves, beginning on A iii, mostly in good sound condition, but several damaged. It is the unique copy away from Sweden, where only one other, and that in a more incomplete condition, is known in a private collection, of the fifth book printed in Sweden. The first four exist only to the extent of two up to five copies, all enclosed in public libraries; of one only a single specimen being known. The above volume is the OLDEST SWEDISH-PRINTED BOOK existing in England, and mine is the only copy. It should find a place in some great library, which would by this means be rendered more complete, and secure a typographical monument wanting to its fellows.

- 13865 BREVIARIUM secundum ritum alme ecclesie, AROSIENSIS, 3 pts. in 1 vol. thick sm. 8vo. a very fine copy in the original binding of oak covered with stamped leather, VERY RARE, £16.

Basilee, Jacobus de phortzheim, 1513

A most desirable copy, in extraordinary beautiful condition, of the earliest known and very scarce VESTERAS Breviary.

Six Swedish Breviaries were printed, two in Stockholm and four abroad. I have obtained half of their number, including one of the two printed in Sweden, that one the rarest and most important, and another unique as regards condition. Collectors have now an opportunity which will not occur again of obtaining some of the rarest of liturgical works, not only the above Breviaries, but also the Liturgia, Confessio Fidei, Handboken, Messan, Missale, Ordinantz, and Sangbok of Scandinavia, which will be found further on in the catalogue.

Bridget's (St.) Revelations.

- 13866 REVELATIONES sancte BIRGITTE, folio, SECOND EDITION, title at head of a large woodcut, the second leaf contains two heraldic devices, at the commencement of each of the six books are very curious engravings, and there is a design of Christ on the Cross, all these woodcuts being the full size of the page, and excellent and spirited engravings, a few leaves stained in the margins, otherwise a good copy in Swedish morocco, £7. 10s Nuremberg, Koberger, 1500

The rare second edition of St. Bridget. The woodcuts with which it is ornamented have been attributed to A. Dürer.

An exposure of the doctrines of the Jesuits and their proselytising artifices, contained in a narrative of the imprisonment by the King of Poland of the Swedish Baron and Admiral Gyldenhielm. All the subtlety of the Jesuits were brought to bear for 12 years on Gyldenhielm, who however went through the ordeal triumphantly, and on his return to his native land, furnished the energetic Bishop of Strengnaes, Paulin, Gothus, with materials for the above curious volume. In these last two editions is inserted 'om Judars, Turckars, Morianers, och Hedningars dop.'
Up to the beginning of the 17th century the Swedish Handbook was tainted with many Popish practices and superstitions, in spite of the few alterations made partly in 1541 and 1548, and to a much larger degree in 1557. In 1598 and 1599, and the next dozen years, however, a thorough revision was made. These circumstances give great interest to the above series, which will enable the collector to trace out the alterations and to study the curious variations and traces of ancient practices as they gradually disappear. It would be almost impossible to bring together again the various editions, especially as the early ones have so long a time been entirely out of use.—See Sv. Konv. Lex.

Both the above contain the Preface and the 7th part, which are nearly always wanting.

Mr. Hanrott's copy is printed upon Thicker and Finer Paper than the other, and contains exceedingly brilliant and fine impressions of the engravings, and further is in remarkably beautiful condition.  A volume of Danish legends of Saints and Miracles, incorporated in the Gospels, Epistles, and Reading Lessons for the year, with sermons and moral reflections. The arms of the King of Denmark engraved in a large letter D with the inscription Arma Regis Dacie, C.P.C.L., appear twice in the book, which must be one of excessive rarity. The sixth leaf is marked ffo. vi, and is preceded by leaves a iii, a iv, a v. The two first leaves are simply taken from the end of the book to make the sheet seem complete. The volume ends with leaf 187, or F 1; to which however must be added F 2 and 3 now placed, as stated, at the beginning.

 One of the most interesting and precious volumes on the ancient institutions of Scandinavia, containing the Danish text and Latin exposition of the old Jutland law. - 14173 SWENSKA KYRKEORDNINGEN (then) smallest 4to. good copy, vellum, EXCESSIVELY RARE, £10. Stockholm, Asmund Laurentzson, 1571
The publication of this work was the first step made by King John III of Sweden in his efforts as the apostle of a new faith composed of Lutheran principles and Romanist practices. The preface, ascribed to Archbishop Laurentius Petri, is a curious apologetic composition, strongly disclaiming for the rites introduced the stigma of a Popish connection, and putting forward in their support precedents from primitive Christianity. It shows the wavering state of doubt of the King's mind, and the way he tried to deceive himself, and his subjects, as to the real tenor of his beloved innovations.
One year later, in 1572, John caused to be convened at Upsala, a Council of the Church, where the above Ordningen were unanimously assented to and adopted. That is considered one of the two great Councils of Evangelical Sweden.
The earliest, and now but little known, the "Kirkeordningen" is beyond question the rarest work relating to the attempted revival of Ultramontanism in the North. It is bound up with rare 17th Century royal edicts relating to the Reformed Church, and some MS. pieces. See under Liturgia.

- 14232 LITURGIA eller then Swenske Messeordningen, sm. 4to. fine sound copy in the original stamped binding, VERY RARE, £5. Stockholm, 1588
 A memento of a strenuous and unsuccessful effort to perpetuate the Roman Catholic religion in Sweden, a struggle which threw the kingdom into convulsions, and helped Charles IX. to his throne. The liturgy was principally composed by King John III himself, and as a specimen of a Royal attempt to be agreeable to Lutherans, and, at the same time, further Ultramontane interest, is of the highest interest. It was the last Mass book printed, and both editions are excessively rare, as of course, all the copies that could be found must have undergone speedy destruction soon after. The first edition contains more matter, but the second is the rarest.

 This Parvus was supposed to really be Suaningius, which supposition is conclusively proved by the above fragment of an edition now entirely destroyed and unknown.
 14258 MAGNI (J.) Historia Metropolitanæ Ecclesiæ Upsalensis, opera Olai Magni collecta, small folio, engraved capital letters, fine copy in vellum, EXTREMELY RARE, 28s Romæ, in ædibus divæ Brigidae, 1560

EDITIO PRINCEPS: the finest and most sought for. The woodcuts which occur on nearly each page depict most minutely the private life, and amusement, and the trades, professions, and manufactures of the Northern Peoples. Illustrations of most uncouth animals and Monsters, of Athletic Games, of swimming by means of an Air Belt, of Hunting and other Sports, of Marriage Customs, of Military Exercises and Operations, of Criminal Punishments, etc. occur. Whale-fishing is specially illustrated, and an account is given, with engravings of a monster whale caught on the North Coast of England, and so large that the stomach used to serve as a dining-room.

(Iceland) Thorleifus Arnæus scripsit librum, 1674
Evidently prepared for publication. It is a transcript from some ancient Codex of the famous Norse Laws of King Magnus IV. called Gula-Things-Laugh, but the name of Iceland is substituted for that of Gula-Thing wherever the latter should occur. Thorleif Arnason was the careful editor, as well as the accomplished calligrapher of this valuable MS. His taste is exercised in the inventions of ornamental initials and fanciful column headings which are numerous in the book. His name does not appear to be registered in the literary annals of Iceland.

Stockholm, 1754-1850

An important Family History of Sweden, arranged under three classes: Grefwar, Friherrar, Ridders- och Adelsmän, and containing copious Genealogical, Biographical, and Historical notes on the titled and untitled nobility of Sweden. It was prepared at the request of the Riks-Dag. Its original compiler Stiernman, was an historical scholar and the keeper of the Archives, and on the admirable plan laid down by him has been built up a most valuable work, prepared from official and authentic sources, and offering in a carefully digested form curious information.

The supplementary volume containing the "introducerade Aetter," etc. 1782, is equally with the other portions of the work, very rare. I give underneath a full description of each volume.

Vols. I and II, ed. Stiernman, 1754, contain the "Matrikel uppa Des begäran wid 1751 ars Riks-Dag," and are the foundations of the series. They are sold separately, 2 vols. in 1, FINE PAPER, hf. calf, 20s

Vol. III, 1755-81, ed. Reh binder, 1781—Vol. IV, is very scarce and forms a supplement to the first 3: Fortsättning om Introducerade Ridderskap, etc., jämte adopterade och introducerade ätter; samt de Herrar, hwilke, dels sasom Rikets Rad, dels sasom Commendeurer, blifwit wid 1778 ars Riksdag uti Riddare-Classen förflyttade, ed. Reh binder, 1782, containing preliminary leaves, and pp. 16, 70, Förändringar 14 pp., Matrikel, 68 pp., and Register.—Vol. V, 1782-94.

Vols. VI-VIII, 1794-1823, ed. Rothlieb,—Vol. IX, 1823-50, ed. Kröningssvärd.

EXCESSIVELY RARE. The ancient Missals of Sweden are still more difficult to obtain than those of England, in consequence of the editions being far fewer and much smaller, and their having undergone the usual fate of such books at the triumph of the Reformation. Although printed at Basel the whole edition was of course transported to Upsala, to the Archbishop, at whose cost and desire it had been put in type.

RERUM HIBERNICARUM SCRIPTORES veteres, quibus Editor præfixit: de Fontibus Historiæ genuinæ Hibernorum, eorumque Chronologia, deque antiquissimis Codicibus literis Hibernicis ante Sæculum X, exaratis; Græcorum et Romanorum Testimonia, itemque S. Patricii Epistolæ, Ficci Hymnus, et Gildæ Modudii Carmen de Regibus Hiberniæ; domesticorum Annalium Chronologicæ rationes, etc. 4 vols. 4to. facsimiles of Irish MSS. very fine copy, with cancel and the added leaves, richly bound in green morocco extra, gilt edges, very rare, £75. Buckinghamia, 1814-26

Privately printed at the expense of the late Duke of Buckingham. Only 200 copies were issued, and these for presents. One or two copies have been sold in the last few years at constantly rising prices. The O'Connor copy, 4 vols. in boards, sold recently at Dublin for £105.

The expenses incurred by the Duke of Buckingham, for the researches and for the printing of these four volumes exceeded the sum of £3000.

The work consists of the original Irish texts, with Latin translations, of the Ilberno-Celtic MSS., formerly in the Library of Stowe, but now added to the literary treasures of Ashburnham House, near Hastings, the Earl of Ashburnham having purchased the whole of the Stowe Collection of MSS. Dr. O'Connor refrained from inserting any work which had already been printed, and the entire series may be said to consist of important additions to the history and antiquities of Ireland, most of which were only previously known to us by name. Therefore, "Whether we consider the learning of O'Connor, the value of the materials, or the princely munificence of the Duke of Buckingham, at whose expense it was produced, it is without a parallel in modern literature."—Sir F. Palgrave, Rise of the English Commonwealth.

The early Danish editions were naturally used more frequently than the Latin, and got destroyed much faster. Therefore a copy always bears marks of usage, and is of extreme scarcity. The title of the one above, 1553, is imperfect at the bottom, and mended, and the three last leaves are damaged, but the copy of the very scarce edition of 1542, the earliest I have seen in Danish, is a most desirable one, in fine condition for such a book.

 Printing was established in Strengnaes by Bishop Paulin in 1632, at a private press, for which was invented a peculiar type. This renders the books issued from this press very curious and of importance to the History of Typography.
 A MS. note states that the Northern History is excessively rare. It contains copious details relating to the history of Sweden, more especially in modern times and an account of the East and West Goths in Italy and Spain. The former owner observes that Queen Christina in 1637 commanded the author to cancel page 381, containing an account of the Riga affair in the reign of Gustavus Adolphus (1626). However, both the above copies have this leaf.

A translation in Danish rhyme, interspersed with dialogues and verses from J. Morslin's Fru Wtro, Sebastianus Brant, Fridank, etc. illustrated by a large number of very curious woodcuts, some the full size of the page. The work is of the greatest rarity even in ordinary condition. Brunet does not mention in his collation 8 preliminary leaves and a Register of 17 leaves. These are in the above copy, in which the woodcut title, having on the reverse a portrait of Christian III, is slightly imperfect at the bottom, folio 55 is missing, and several leaves are damaged at the sides and stained.

- 14428*REYNARD IN SWEDISH, FIRST EDITION. This translation in verse of the celebrated satire of Reynard the Fox marks an epoch in the rise of Letters in Sweden. At the date of its publication, Stjernhjelm was only a young man of 24, in whom still ripened the genius which was to declare him the founder of Swedish poetry. The forerunner of this great man's verse, and doubtless a potent agent in awakening his poetic fire, the importance of Reyneke Foss as a great literary monument is very great. To it a celebrated man of letters and poet of modern times, whose name is inseparably connected with Stjernhjelm's, has ascribed a most powerful influence upon the development of Swedish Literature. This man is Hammarsköld, who reckons Reyneke Foss as only second to the Bible.

The work has an additional recommendation. It is EXCESSIVELY RARE, and almost unknown to collectors, although the volume would grace a library of the highest rank. The above copy is in fine condition. The prologues to each book contain numerous extracts from old satirists and writers, in prose and verse, and the text is embellished by a series of woodcuts. Collation: 4 preliminary leaves, A—Qq in eights, except Qq which has 3 leaves.

(Lübeck), 1681

A haughty assertion of the privileges of the aristocracy in Denmark, written by a noble who previous to 1681 had been one of the chief officers of the crown. It brought upon the author the heavy displeasure of the king, Christian V, and a crushing fine of 20,000 rdlr. The heads of Rosencrantz's offence were: he had printed his book abroad without name of place, and sent it into the kingdom in defiance of the censure, containing treasonable, damaging reflections on the king and his family, and the royal foreign matrimonial connections, also speaking disdainfully of the foreigners in the service of the king, and inserting allusions concerning tyrants and good kings, praising Ulfeld, etc. The work was rigorously suppressed.

- The best and finest of all existing books upon a most interesting subject. The archæologist will prize it no less highly than the ethnologist, for it concerns both equally. Certain theories of race and language held by the author will not be acceptable to all students, but no one can fail to appreciate the thorough and scholarly manner in which the antiquarian and historical features of the work are developed. It is a repository of facts and monuments in which every one who studies the ancient history and civilization of Northern Europe will be obliged to seek for information. The linguistic portion of the volume, which the author calls "Old Northern Word-Row and Scandinavian Runic Word-List," occupies pp. 895-1019 in double columns.

- 14634 TERSER (J. E.) Sacra Chronologia, sm. 8vo. vellum, 2s 6d Upsal. 1657
With tables and genealogies illustrating Swedish history.
- 14635 TERSERI (J. E. Episcopi Aboënsis) Förklaring öfwer Catechismum, eller the sex war christlige läras hufvudstycken, thick 18mo. Abo, 1663—Emporagrii (E. G. Biskop i Strengnäs) Catechesens enfaldige Förklarning, medh Böner, Strengnäs, 1669—in 1 thick vol. 12mo. vellum, 25s 1663-69
- These two books are excessively rare, both having been rigorously suppressed and confiscated. Bishop Terser, one of the most celebrated men of his time, by his zeal for retrenching the crown lands, his wish to depose Christina, and still more, his efforts to unite the Swedish Church with the Calvinists, had made himself many enemies. His work on the Catechism, in which he denies the efficacy of the Justification by Faith alone, and shows much toleration towards several Protestant sects, made an opportunity which was promptly seized on, to effect his disgrace and removal from the bishoprick. The title-page is reprinted.
- That woman should be reckoned as part of a man's chattels, and a valuable addition to one's personal estate, was the opinion expressed by Bishop Emporagrius in his explanation of the 12 Commandments. This gave great offence to the Queen Mother, and causes the book to be very scarce.

Mr. Bond has ably shown how much greater was the communication between England and Russia at that time than is usually known, and what an interest was taken by the Muscovite sovereigns in the expression of English opinion.

 A translation of F. de Andrada's Portuguese work. See Brandt, who says, "Edition portée à 3 liv. 3 sh. dans le Catalogue de Salva."
 The memory of Scanderbeg, the Hero of Albania, still lives in the East of Europe. He was born in 1404, the son of John Kastrioti, Prince of Albania; in 1423 he was given as hostage to Sultan Murad; he was educated as a Moslem, and became a Turkish general. After his father's death in 1432 the Sultan confiscated his father's principality, then Scanderbeg became a Christian and reconquered his principality; he died in 1466. Twelve years later Albania was reconquered by the Turks.
 There exists some slender blood relationship between the Slavs, the Albanians, and even the Modern Greeks, but absolutely no linguistic affinities.

Admirably digested from the writers of the Byzantine Annals. The third volume is occupied by the early history of the Turks down to the foundation of the Ottoman empire, and the fourth contains a similar chronicle of the Caucasian nations. The value of Stritter's work is very great for the student who wishes to trace the origin of existing race divisions in Europe, and to understand rightly those latest tribal migrations with which the history of modern Europe begins.

These sketches were executed by Stroganoff about the year 1600, and contain sketches of Saints' figures and groups, all executed in full face and looking towards the beholder, as a drawing-book for ecclesiastical artists. The skill and power they exhibit are of no mean order, and immeasurably superior to what we see in the stereotyped illustrations of Byzantine and old Græco-Russian MSS. Mr. Butovski edited the reproduction.

CURIOSA:

1. ALCHEMY, ASTROLOGY, MAGIC, THE OCCULT SCIENCES, DEMONOLOGY, including Free-masonry, Rosicrucians, Chiromancy, and Witchcraft.

15183 AGRIPPA (Cornelius) Three Books of Occult Philosophy, translated out of Latin by J. F(reake), sm. 4to. no portrait, calf, 36s 1651

The leaf before the title contains an Encomium in forty odd lines of heroic verse, by "Eugenius Philalethes," which have so much poetical merit as to arouse curiosity concerning the writer's real name.

15184 AGRIPPA, The Vanity of Arts and Sciences, 12mo. portrait, calf, 21s 1676

15185 ——— the same, 12mo. portrait, calf, 15s 1694

An interesting and very learned series of Essays upon almost every subject, not excluding the Occult Sciences. The tone throughout is censorious and satirical; and allusions are frequently made to the vices of contemporary great personages.

15186 ALIACO (P. de) Imago mundi—Epilogus mappæ mundi—Tract. de legibus et sectis contra superstitiosos astronomos, etc.—GERSON (Joh.) Trigilogium astrologiæ theologisatæ—Opusc. contra superstitiosos dierum observatores—5 parts in 1 vol. sm. folio, diagrams, hf. bd. fine large copy, with numerous rough leaves, £12.

S. n. (Louvain, John of Westphalia), 1483

This is not only a rare volume, and a specimen of the first press of Louvain, all the productions of which are scarce and highly esteemed; but it possesses also intrinsic worth. The work of Pierre d'Ailly is one of the most important expositions of geographical science that the middle ages have left us.

Astrology.

15187 TABLES of the Primum Mobile with Theses added to the theory and Cannons, set forth in Thirty excellent NATIVITIES computed by Placidus de Titis of Perusino Olivetano, Mathematician, 1657. Printed by Paul Frambot, bookseller, by the permission of Superiors, Svo. MANUSCRIPT ON PAPER, 100 leaves, old English red morocco, extra, £2. 2s About 1700

This MS. appears to be a translation. The original, probably in Latin, was composed at Passau in 1657, and dedicated to the Archduke Leopold. Whether it was printed or not, remains uncertain notwithstanding the statement on the title; but the translation has assuredly remained unpublished.

15187* RAMESEY (W.) Astrologia Restaurata; or Astrologie Restored: being an Introduction to the general and chief part of the Language of the Stars, in four books, sm. folio, calf, rebaked, 36s R. White, 1654

A very strange and singular work by an adept, fully answering to its title as a complete system. Nowhere else are the practical details so fully entered into.

AGAMEMNON, a tragedy taken from Æschylus (by the Translator of OMAR KHAYYAM), sm. 4to. pp. vii. and 79, in Roxburghe half binding, 7s 6d Bernard Quaritch, 1876

Of this dramatic poem, a small number of copies were privately printed some few years ago, and gradually dispersed among the author's friends. Many who had heard of the book, desired to see and have it, and for that reason the present edition is given to the public who may be curious concerning the efforts in another line of poetic art of the translator of Omar Khayyam's Tetrastichs.

As a version of Æschylus, it would not be fair to consider and judge it; the author having taken fuller license than a mere translator, adapting what suited him in the original, rejecting or changing what did not.

plates (sells £5. 5s) hf. morocco, uncut, top edge gilt, £2. 17s 6d 1847

This English edition is divided as follows; ARCHITECTURE, 73 plates; SCULPTURE, 51 plates; PAINTING, 204 plates.

To Antiquaries and lovers of the Fine Arts, this book is indispensable; it connects the works of Winckelman and Cicognara, and forms with them a most interesting series.

"This fine work was the first in which the idea of exhibiting the Progress of Art, by a series of its noblest monuments, was perfectly carried out. By a series of accurate Engravings from celebrated Monuments, we trace the transitions or Art from the classic period to our own times. Sculpture, Painting, and the Art of Illumination; and the Art of Engraving on Wood, on Gems and on Medals are similarly represented.

"It is a work that has long been sought and prized by all who could afford the high price at which only it was to be procured. No Library, Architect, Painter, Sculptor, or any one connected with the Fine Arts, should be without such a work."

It was originally published in Spain in 1555, and a translation of it appeared in Hakluyt, but it has never been presented in an English dress separately except in 1851, when a few copies of a new translation by Buckingham Smith, Esq., were printed for private distribution only for Mr. Riggs, of Washington.

— another copy, sm. 4to. 5 copperplates, old calf neat, very rare, £7. 10s 1702

THIS EXCESSIVELY RARE WORK is of the highest interest to American collectors. It begins with a general description of America, and in the account of Virginia divides it into three regions: New Sweden, New England, and New Netherland. One plate depicts Niagara Falls. Rich, in noticing the rarity of the book, and the mistake by which some American catalogues had given the author's name as Holm, regretted that it had never been translated. The work includes 32 pp. of Vocabularies. Campanius does not omit to mention the details of the presumed old Norse discovery of America. He was son of John Campanius, who translated Luther's Catechism into Virginian.

PALOU (Padre Fr. Francisco) Noticias de la Nueva California [ahora por la primera vez publicadas sobre el manuscrito original] 4 vols. 8vo. beautifully printed on fine paper, with photographs of missions and other buildings in California, sd. £5. 5s

San Francisco, 1874

Only one hundred copies printed, at the expense of the California Historical Society. The history of the missions in Upper California, and of the Indians when first they came under the notice of European settlers, must henceforth be sought chiefly in these volumes. Hitherto the best authority on the subject was the printed life of Palou, composed by his brother missionary Serra, in which scattered notices of interest occur; but the pile of MSS. left by Palou himself was almost entirely unknown. Until the printing of the above beautiful edition, no portion of the Noticias had been published, except a few extracts in the Diario Oficial of Mexico. The thanks of many students are therefore due to Mr. Doyle and those who helped him to preserve a work so interesting by means of the printing-press.

PTOLEMAEI Geographia Universalis Vetus et Nova, complectens Ptolemæi enarrationem, cum Appendice Seb. Munsteri, etc. sm. folio, 48 large woodcut maps, leaves of paper inserted, covered with ancient writing, calf neat, £5.

Basil. Henricus Petrus, 1542

The parent edition of a new series of Ptolemies. Münster, the famous cosmographer, edited it (in 1540, the above being simply issued with a new date) re-designing the maps, according to the lights of fresh discovery, and thenceforward each new edition has followed or improved upon his work. In the first Map—Typus Universalis—the continent of America is divided into three parts: Francisca (Canada); Terra Florida, Temistitan (i.e. Mexico) which is broken off from Florida by the circumference line of the circle, and consequently appears on the extreme right in the Asiatic half of the globe; and America seu insula Brasiliæ (South America). Maps 2-28 contain the series of Ptolemy's ancient maps, as designed by Münster. Then follow the twenty maps of the modern world, of which the seventeenth contains the Novus Orbis, that is, North and South America, extending from Labrador to Tierra del Fuego. Naturally great portion of the outline is conjectural and there are no details.

The general representation of the New World, is the third map in which the entire continent appears, and is the rough sketch which Gastaldo improved upon in the Italian Ptolemy of 1648.

CLAUDII PTOLEMAEI Geographica Enarrationis libri octo Bilibaldo Pirceymerho interprete, (acc.) annotationes J. de Regio Monte, folio, curious initials with borders, 50 large woodcut maps, some of the leaves a little wormed, bd. £10.

Argentoragi (sic) J. Grieninger, 1525

The Bodleian Library possesses only an imperfect copy of this edition, and there is none at all in the Grenville Library. Harrisæ (Bibl. Americana) had not seen one, describing it only from the catalogue of a private collection. The maps are the same as those in the edition of 1522. The last sheet is the famous map signed by L. F. (Laurentius Frisius) dated 1522, and entitled "ORBIS TYPUS UNIVERSALIS," which bears the name "AMERICA." This map is not a new one, but simply a reproduction of one in the Ptolemy of 1513, with the name America added. The discovery of Columbus is described on the sheet numbered 28, and the two inner pages of that sheet contain a Map of America, or rather of the Western Ocean and Terra Nova, with the Islands. Again, the second last map, which represents Gronlandia et Russia, is really a map of the Eastern Hemisphere, but also contains portions of the American coasts. As the collation is always incorrectly given, an exact description is appended. Folios 1-28, numbered, including title; annotations of Regiomontanus, 14 leaves, unnumbered; Index Ptolemæi, 34 leaves, unnumbered; followed by the Maps. They consist of sheets numbered 1-26; general Ptolemæan map; sheets 28-50 (with two Nos. 36 by mistake for 35 and 36); 46 and 47 on sheet; and 50 unnumbered).

PTOLEMEO : la Geografia di Claudio Ptolemeo, con alcune aggiunte fattevi da Sebastianiano Munstero, con le tavole nuove solamente antiche et moderne, ma altre nuove aggiuntevi di Messer Jacopo Gastaldo, cosmographo, sm. 8vo. numerous engraved maps, vellum, RARE, £4. Venetia, Pedrezzano, 1548

Besides the others, there are two maps of the world including America, a special map of the New World, one of New Spain, one of Northern America from Florida to Labrador, and two of Cuba and San Domingo, not merely rough outlines, but actual maps with details. This edition of Ptolemy is especially noteworthy as being the FIRST REAL ATLAS OF THE NEW WORLD, and having served as a model to all the map-makers afterwards. Grynæus, Vadianus, Münster's Ptolemy, and this book form a series in themselves, and are distinguishable from all preceding productions by the fact that the New World ceased to be represented as "the Isles of the West," and that the Pacific Ocean and the western shores of America are delineated in them for the first time.

A curious book, by the father of the celebrated Emanuel Swedenborg, on Pennsylvania, and the Swedes in America. It contains many interesting notes on the labours of the Swedish pastors, and their connection and co-operation with English fellow-workers, the struggles of the colony and the Indians. The book is mentioned by Rich, but seems to be almost unknown, and is very scarce.

RELATIONS DES JESUITES, contenant ce qui s'est passé de plus remarquable dans les Missions des Pères de la Compagnie de Jésus dans la Nouvelle France, 1611-72, ouvrage publié sous les auspices du Gouvernement Canadien, 3 vols. stout royal 8vo. double columns, containing reprints of the Journals and letters of the Missionaries in Canada, during a most interesting period, hf. calf gilt, very scarce, £8. 10s Quebec, 1858

Nothing can be more valuable as a record of the manners and customs of the North American Indians, than the detailed and exact information contained in the collected narratives of men like the Jesuits, admittedly earnest, learned and intelligent, full of practical wisdom, and possessing opportunities and talents which no single traveller could ever combine.

RICH (R., Soldier) News from VIRGINIA (1610), a Tract in verse, sm. 4to. hf. bd. £1. 1s 1610—Privately reprinted, 1874

Only 25 copies printed, all numbered. Of the original tract but one copy is known, which were little to be regretted, as it is a piece devoid of all literary merit, except for the fact that it contains some interesting scraps of information concerning the young English colony in Virginia, from which the author had just then returned. It also has a description of the "still vext Bermoothes," which may be interesting to the Shakespeare-allusionists

FIELD'S Essay towards an INDIAN BIBLIOGRAPHY, being a Catalogue of Books relating to the History, Antiquities, Languages, Customs, Religion, Wars, Literature and Origin of the American Indians, in the library of Thomas W. Field, with Bibliographical and Historical Notes, 8vo. pp. iv and 439, cloth, 12s New York, 1730

This bibliographical handbook, embracing a collection of about 1800 works, may be considered the chief, if not the only one of its kind. The author's notes are judicious and valuable and have an interest beyond even the actual subject of the essay. Collectors of Americana of every kind will derive pleasure and profit from a labour that evinces a wide range of study and experience. The occasional inaccuracies that appear in the transcription of titles in foreign languages seem to be merely typographical.

MEXICAN. EVANGELIARIUM, EPISTOLARUM ET LECTIONARIUM AZTECUM, sive Mexicanum, ex antiquo Codice Mexicano nuper reperto depromptum, cum interpret. annotat. Glossario, etc. ed. BIONDELLI, folio, pp. xlix and 576, with facsimile, only 400 copies printed, cloth, £2. 18s Mediolani, 1856-60

The very interesting Codex, of which the above is a careful reprint, was discovered in Mexico by Beltrami in the year 1826, and came into the hands of the present editor by purchase from the heirs. It was composed between 1529 and 1590, in pure and elegant Nahuatl, by Bernardino Sahagun, a Spanish Monk of the Franciscan order. Mr. Biondelli, by his introductory observations, has thrown considerable light upon the Nahuatl language, its affinity to other families of language, its grammatical peculiarities, and upon the traditions, institutions, and monuments of the Aztecs; thus forming a complete treasury of everything appertaining to the ancient Mexicans.
